GERMANY RATIFIES PARIS ARMS PACTS

BONN, Germany (UP)—The Bonn government completed ratification today of the Paris accords to rearm 500,000 Germans as a major force in the Western defense system against Communist aggression.

The West German upper house sets its final stamp of approval on the set of treaties which restores German sovereignty, ends the Allied occupation and permits Germany to arm as a part of the Western European Union and NATO.

"What happened today means the wiping out of Yalta," Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said after the successful conclusion of his long and hard fight for ratification.

Of the major powers only France has not completed ratification. The French upper house votes next week.

27 Plead Guilty, 29 Held After Riot Over Richard

Their Actions Sparked Montreal Hockey Riot

All Canada was talking today about Thursday night's momentous hockey riot at the Montreal Forum. Leading figures around which the controversy has raged are pictured above. At the left, president Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League, who brought down a storm around his head for suspending Canadiens' star, Maurice (Rocket) Richard, for the rest of the season, discusses the Boston stick-swinging incident with Frank Udvari (left), referee of the game. At the right is the "Rocket" pictured with his young son. Richard drew the stiff penalty as a result of going berserk in a game last Sunday night in Boston. After getting into a stick-swinging battle with Hal Laycoe of the Bruins Richard punched linesman Cliff Thompson. President Campbell is known to many Victoria hockey fans through his having been stationed here with the Army during the Second World War. Recognized as one of the best referees in the business, Campbell officiated at several games at the Willows arena, later destroyed by fire.

Bandaged Brawlers Freed on $100 Bail

MONTREAL (BUP)—Maurice (Rocket) Richard will broadcast a radio and television message, imploring his fans to avoid any further demonstrations, it was announced today. Times for the broadcasts were not yet known.

MONTREAL (BUP)—Twenty-seven persons, some of them heavily bandaged, pleaded guilty today to joining in what a judge said was a premeditated riot staged to protest the suspension of National Hockey League star Maurice Richard.

Judge Emmett J. McManamy freed them all on $100 bail and said he would pass sentence March 25.

"I must consider not only the actual offense, but the punishment must also be such as to deter any repetition of such incidents as a warning to others," he said.

Two other adults were to be charged separately with assaulting a police officer, and 27 juveniles were scheduled to appear at a closed session of juvenile court.

Police estimated this afternoon that $10,000 worth of goods, ranging from cameras to radios and wrist watches, were taken by looters in a night-long follow-up to the riot. None of the original group booked was charged with looting or theft, however.

McManamy said he postponed the hearings to next week partly because he wanted to figure out adequate punishment and partly because police were not yet sure of the total damage. A total of 150 windows were smashed in the Forum building alone.

Police Lieutenant John McTaggart said 74 persons, including 27 juveniles under 16 years old, had been booked as a result of the riot. He estimated that 25 others were treated at hospitals for injuries from flying fists, bottles and soup cans tossed in protest against Richard's suspension for the remainder of the NHL season by league president Clarence S. Campbell.

But some apparently were allowed to cool off before the court opened and were sent away with warnings to behave. Others convinced officers they were picked up by mistake as police fought a crowd of 4,000 demonstrators, and were freed after calling friends or relatives to vouch for them.

June 16 Vote For Britain?

Papers Speculating Again On Churchill's Retirement

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—Britain's biggest political teasers—the date of the next general election and Prime Minister Churchill's retirement—were linked today in a fresh burst of speculation.

As reflected in British newspapers, corridor gossip now emphasizes these possibilities:

1. Although the evidence is still slender—and has proved unreliable many times in the past—there is a feeling that Churchill may hand over the premiership to Foreign Secretary Eden within the next weeks.

2. The possibility of a spring election can almost certainly be ruled out, but there is still a chance of a summer vote. If not, October would be the most likely date.

RESIGN BEFORE BUDGET

The Yorkshire Post, a Conservative newspaper, reports there is a "growing feeling" among Tory members the 80-year-old prime minister will resign before the April 19 budget—"that, indeed, he may choose to do so within the next two weeks."

The News Chronicle, a Liberal newspaper, lists five pointers to the fact that the prime minister may be "seriously thinking" of retiring. These include the fact that Lady Eden has recently been shown around the prime minister's official residence at 10 Downing Street, where she would ultimately become hostess, and the scheduling of a dinner at Downing Street, April 4, at which the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will be chief guests.

"Could it be a farewell occasion?" the News Chronicle asks.

THINK JUNE 16 LIKELY

On the question of a general election, which can be held on any date of the government's choice up to October, 1956, the pro-Labor Daily Mirror and the Daily Telegraph, Conservative, both discuss the possibility of a June 16 vote.

Labor Retains Seat in Wales

WREXHAM, Wales (Reuters)—The Labor Party retained its parliamentary seat in a by-election here Thursday. Despite the current rift between the right and left wings of the party, it slightly increased its percentage of the vote.

The Labor candidate, schoolteacher Idwal Jones, won with 23,402 of the 40,450 votes cast—58 per cent and a majority of 10,925.

His predecessor, Robert Richards, whose death caused the present election, won in 1951 with a majority of 14,635 in a total poll of 55,000.

The Conservative candidate in today's result, Guthrie Jones, polled 12,457. A third candidate, Welsh Nationalist Elystan Morgan, received 4,572 votes.

Some Conservative supporters had looked to the current rift between left-wing leader Aneurin Bevan and the orthodox party leadership under Clement Attlee to show up in a reduced Labor poll. Bevan was expelled from the parliamentary party organization Wednesday and now sits in Parliament as an independent.

Tory Kohaly Turns Down Socred Bid

REGINA (CP)—Robert Kohaly says he has turned down an invitation to lead the Saskatchewan Social Credit party in the next provincial election, expected in 1956.

Mr. Kohaly, Progressive Conservative member of the legislature, said in an interview Thursday that he is "staying with the Tories," and he has given that decision to Social Crediters who offered him the leadership.

Mr. Kohaly, a 33-year-old lawyer, said some weeks ago he received the invitation from sources he declined to identify and added that he was "seriously considering" the offer.

He said he "never will disclose" who made the Social Credit offer to him. Rumor had it that it had come from high officials of the party in British Columbia and Alberta.

Auxiliaries May Prevent 'Brownout'

B.C. Power Commission announced at noon today that it is negotiating for "sizeable" auxiliary generators to help relieve the serious water shortage at John Hart Development, and impending Vancouver Island "brownout."

Already arrangements have been made for a generator to be located near Ladysmith. No announcement has been made regarding locations of others. (See earlier story, page 14.)

Wants Fluoridation

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ald. Donald McTaggart, who said Wednesday evidence in favor of fluoridation is "overwhelming," will press for action by city officials.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING For Young People

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

CHAPTER IV

YOU MAKE YOUR OWN HAPPINESS

Who decides whether you shall be happy or unhappy? The answer—you do!

A television celebrity had as a guest on his program an aged man. And he was a very rare old man indeed. His remarks were entirely unpremeditated and of course absolutely unrehearsed. They simply bubbled up out of a personality that was radiant and happy. And whenever he said anything, it was so naive, so apt, that the audience roared with laughter. They loved him. The celebrity was impressed, and enjoyed it with the others.

Finally he asked the old man why he was so happy. "You must have a wonderful secret of happiness," he suggested.

"No," replied the old man, "I haven't any great secret. It's just as plain as the nose on your face. When I get up in the morning," he explained, "I have two choices—either to be happy or to be unhappy, and what do you think I do? I just chose to be happy, and that's all there is to it."

That may seem an oversimplification, but I recall that Abraham Lincoln said that people were just about as happy as they made up their minds to be. You can be unhappy if you want to be. It is the easiest thing in the world to accomplish. Just choose unhappiness. Go around telling yourself that things aren't going well, that nothing is satisfactory, and you can be quite sure of being unhappy. But say to yourself, "Things are going nicely. Life is good. I choose happiness," and you can be quite certain of having your choice.

MORE EXPERT

Children are more expert in happiness than adults. And the subtlety of Jesus Christ is remarkable, for He tells us that the way to live in this world is to have the childlike heart and mind. So don't become super-sophisticated.

My little daughter Elizabeth, aged 11, has the answer to happiness. One day I asked her, "Are you happy, honey?"

"Sure I'm happy," she replied.

"Are you always happy?" I asked.

"Sure," she answered, "I'm always happy."

"What makes you happy?" I asker her.

"Why, I don't know," she said. "I'm just happy."

"There must be something that makes you happy," I urged.

HOCKEY RIOT SIDELIGHTS

Job Offered 'Raw Deal' Rocket

(BUP and CP Dispatches)

MONTREAL—A firm that sells wrapping paper and twine to butchers offered Maurice Richard a job today.

The Canadian Butchers' Supply Corp., said in newspaper advertisement headed "an urgent message to Maurice Richard" it felt he got a raw deal when he was suspended for the rest of the season by NHL president Clarence Campbell.

"Being unable to contact you personally at this time, we are, via this ad, offering you a bona fide position with our firm. If interested, please contact," the firm said.

Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau today blamed National Hockey League president Clarence S. Campbell for the riot at the forum.

Drapdeau said Campbell's presence at the game "could be interpreted as a real challenge."

But the mayor said: "Provocations can never be considered as excuses for excessive acts, and I thus request the people of Montreal to be calm and respect the law."

Police officials said today they were more concerned with protecting the public than preventing property damage during Thursday night's mob demonstrations in downtown Montreal.

Police attempted to hold the crowd in check at first, but eventually it became a howling mob.

Some 200 policemen were on the riot scene through most of the night. They concentrated on arresting ringleaders rather than attempting to break up the throngs.

City councillor Adeodat Crompt said today he will seek a warrant for the arrest of NHL president Clarence Campbell. "I want a warrant not only for last night, but also if he ever sets his foot in the Forum again," he said.

Montreal's hockey riot drew banner headlines and scathing comment in Canada's press today.

The Daily Star devoted most of its front page to the story. An editorial entitled "A Disgrace to Canada," said "It is time we took a lesson from the Americans on how a national game should be run."

The Telegram's front page trumpeted, "hockey hurt 'everywhere' . . . Campbell." Columnist Bob Hesketh said the demonstration "has given a fairly decent sport the blackest eye that any sport has ever had."

Ottawa newspapers expressed shock. The Ottawa Citizen, in a lead editorial headed "Hockey on Trial," said "In most other sports a player who assaulted opponents with a stick and struck officials . . . would not be suspended for merely a few weeks but banished from the game for life."

The Ottawa Journal castigated "the malicious, unsporting and hooligan deeds of some of the Montreal fans."

Scotty Melville in Regina Leader-Post called the riot "a disgraceful outburst."

Andy O'Brien wrote in Montreal Star: "Outside the Forum, I mixed among them to see just who comprised this unprecedented mob who, in my opinion, would have killed Campbell if they'd got to him.

"The mob . . . were basically riff-raff types—toughs who normally ramble the shabby areas of the city in the wee hours looking for cheap thrills . . .

NHL CHIEF 'WON'T QUIT'

MONTREAL (CP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said today, "I have no intention at all of resigning."

He made the statement in an interview with The Canadian Press after reports circulated that he planned to resign because of riotous demonstrations set off by his appearance Thursday night at the Montreal Forum.

HIGHLY COMMENDED

Campbell said:

"I have already received this morning three calls from governors of the league who are owners of their clubs commending me very highly for my decision on the Richard case and the manner in which I have conducted myself, including my attendance at the game."

Campbell declined to say whether he will attend Saturday's game at the Forum between Canadiens and New York Rangers. He indicated it will be a matter for Canadiens' management and the police to decide.

NO POLICE IN SIGHT

Campbell gave the interview in his office at NHL headquarters. There were no police in sight anywhere near the building or Campbell's offices.

Campbell was asked his reaction to the outburst in the Forum.

"I wasn't frightened if that's what you mean," replied Campbell.

"I think in the interest of everybody if I had known what was going to happen, the thing then to have done would have been to have the game called off."

"The question of my attendance was a matter for the management of the building and the police."

WIRE BRIEFS

Delays Showdown

PARIS (UP)—Premier Edgar Faure postponed today for a week his dangerous showdown with leaders of a taxpayers' revolt to avoid the risk of falling from power before France can ratify German rearmament.

Montreal Fire

MONTREAL (BUP)—A four-story building housing the Grandmere Knitting Mills warehouse on Montreal's waterfront was destroyed by fire early today.

Injured by Blast

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP)—Robert Angus, manager of Charlie Lake motel near here, was painfully injured today when a gas stove exploded. RCMP said the blast was heard a mile away.

Crossword Prize Hits New High of $450

A new high for the Times crosswords contest prize—$450 to a bonus winner—was established today when for the sixteenth week no one came through with a correct solution.

There were several sticklers in last week's puzzle, the hardest perhaps being "tough" not "rough" for the definition "After a very ——— voyage, a sailor may be glad to see port." The composer points out that a real sailor takes a rough voyage more or less in stride, but after a very tough voyage he would be glad to see port.

Contest judges announced that because of a minor misprint in the definition for No. 18 down this was disregarded in checking the entries. Most people got the proper answer which was "ragged."

Full explanation of the correct solution, along with the new puzzle worth $450 is on page 26.

Fans Fury of Hate Sweeps Into Streets

MONTREAL (CP)—Thousands of revenge-crazed hockey fans went on a seven-hour rampage of destruction and looting Thursday night in the worst demonstration Montreal has seen since the anti-conscription riots during the Second World War.

The fans, fired up to a fury of hate against National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell, smashed windows, looted jewelry stores and beat up innocent bystanders as their rage flared on long after a game between the Canadiens and Detroit was called off at the end of the first period with the visitors leading 4-1 and awarded to the Red Wings.

It started off as a noisy protest against Campbell's action in suspending their idol—Maurice "Rocket" Richard — and grew until street-car riders and persons walking along busy St. Catherine Street cowered in fear of the frenzied demonstrators.

Shops Looted; Stands Smashed, Burned

Passengers on street-cars, trapped in an impossible traffic jam near the Forum, lay on the floor as chunks of ice and bottles came smashing through windows, scattering glass and panic.

Police arrested more than 100 persons. Many had their pockets jammed with looted jewelry.

The mob went completely out of control, despite the efforts of hundreds of police and firemen.

Corner newsstands were toppled and set afire. More than 50 stores had their windows smashed. Cars were overturned. Many people were injured, but none severely.

Inside the Forum, there was a scene of unbelievable hysteria as a fan tossed a tear-gas bomb into a passageway near the entrance, sending spectators choking and coughing through the exits. Forum officials said only the calm of fans in the upper part of the rink, who retained their seats while those near the ice battled their way out, prevented a major disaster.

Campbell, the object of the fury, was punched in the face by one fan and buried under an avalanche of rubbers, peanuts, programs, eggs, tomatoes and pennies. He said afterwards, however, that he was unhurt.

The demonstration started innocently enough. Hundreds of fans jammed the lobby of the Forum two hours before game time but they seemed in a jovial mood. But when the game got under way and the effort of those without tickets to crash the gates were repulsed by police they became more surly.

They assembled in a park at Atwater and St. Catherine Street, directly opposite the rink, and started pelting street cars with chunks of ice. Dozens of windows were broken.

'Friend' Slaps Campbell's Face

Campbell's arrival midway through the first period touched off the demonstration inside by many of the 15,000 fans. For six minutes after his arrival he was pelted with programs and peanuts. He took it all smilingly, as if he had expected it.

After a time, the demonstration subsided, but when the period ended with Detroit ahead 4-1 the spectators renewed the barrage. This time, rubbers and bottles were added to the missiles.

Ushers and police tried to keep the fans away from where Campbell sat with three secretaries from NHL headquarters. One spectator, however, pretended to be a friend of the NHL president, and with his hand extended as if to shake Campbell's hand, got by the guard.

He maintained the friendly attitude until he was within striking distance of Campbell and then slapped him across the face with his open hand. As Campbell fell back from the blow, the fan closed his fist and punched him.

Campbell retained his seat as police dragged his attacker off, still trying to kick out at the NHL president. But when the tear-gas bomb was tossed into the passageway he joined hundreds of other fans in putting his handkerchief over his face and heading for the exit.

Rioters Run Rampant in Downtown Shops

Fire director Armand Pare then ordered the game suspended, "for the protection of the fans." The order meant the contest was automatically forfeited to the Red Wings and moved them into undisputed possession of first place.

The cancellation only seemed to increase the ire of the fans, who milled around outside for four hours after the order, firing anything they could get their hands on at police, cars and streetcars.

When they were finally pushed back from the Forum they marched up St. Catherine Street, Montreal's main business artery, smashing windows and looting for some 20 blocks.

As they marched they chanted "a bas Campbell" (down with Campbell, "vive Richard" and flaunted a huge likeness of the Rocket hammering a dummy Campbell over the head with a hockey stick.

Police at first concentrated on picking off the obvious troublemakers and holding the rest in check.

But they moved in fast when a group set a news stand on fire. Within minutes a space had been cleared and five fire-trucks arrived.

The mob was breaking up. Gradually they were pushed east. Then the remnant broke,

MUNICIPALITIES GET NEW DEAL ON TAX-FREE FEDERAL PROPERTY

(From CP and BUP Dispatches)

A bill which would double the number of municipalities receiving federal grants to compensate for an above-average amount of tax-exempt government property has been placed before the Commons.

Finance Minister Harris said on Thursday that between 45 and 55 municipalities will be added to the 48 now receiving federal grants in lieu of taxes on government property.

He also outlined changes to broaden the base of payments and said grants in the 1955-56 fiscal year will increase to about $6,000,000, compared with $2,975,000 in 1953-54.

Seventeen members from all parties joined the debate on a resolution preliminary to introduction of the bill. Most welcomed the move and some said it should have gone farther.

Pay Fair Rates

Mr. Harris listed no municipalities which are to receive grants but said that under the bill the government will pay full tax rates on federal property assessments exceeding two per cent of total property assessment in a municipality.

At present it pays only 75 per cent of taxation on federal property exceeding four per cent of total assessments.

A further change would base the grants on the normal mill rate instead of the somewhat lower mill rate applied to federal property.

He said the combined effect of the changes "will be to calculate the grants at the full real property tax rate."

The increases are to be effective Jan. 1, 1955.

Acute Money Problems

Spokesmen for the Progressive Conservative, CCF and Social Credit parties said the government should pay local taxes in all municipalities on all its property as a move to help ease the acute financial problems of municipalities.

Mr. Harris said the present system of paying grants only for federal properties used in the functions of government will be continued. This excluded canals, museums, parks, monuments, harbor works and other engineering works.

Test firings of guided missiles have forced some 2,000 Indians from a 4,600-square-mile happy hunting ground in northern Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Citizenship Minister Pickersgill said Thursday his department is faced with a tremendous problem in finding a new trapping area where the dispossessed Indians can find a similar livelihood.

He told the estimates committee about the loss of trapping grounds in the Cold Lake range, straddling the Alberta-Saskatchewan border northeast of Edmonton, at about the same time the RCAF was announcing the start of new weapons tests at the guided missile range.

For Home Defense

Under test is the new air-to-air guided missile—not yet in production—intended to be used as armament on RCAF interceptor planes in home defense.

Mr. Pickersgill said the Indians moved from the Cold Lake range depended on sale of furs for a living. It was up to his department to find them new trapping grounds. New areas are scarce.

He had discussed the question of compensation with Defense Minister Campney but no solution had been found.

The estimates committee also discussed the citizenship department's policy of trying to make Canada's 153,000 Indians more self-reliant.

An undetermined number now live on reserves as government wards.

Automatic devices for opening garage doors soon will no longer be defined as radio stations.

And one taxi company will not be able to tune into another's radio system and beat the first to fares.

Transport Minister George Marler presented proposals Thursday night to change the Radio Act. One of the proposed changes, to be brought in later in a bill, would exempt from licensing such devices as electric eyes, often used on garage and other doors. Under existing regulations these devices come under the definition of a radio station.

Another amendment would allow this country to fulfill a commitment as one of the signatory nations to an international telecommunications convention. The commitment requires Canada to impose secrecy restrictions on all radio communications that are not for general broadcast to the public.

Marler explained that complaints had been received about unauthorized use of some short-wave signals, including those of taxi firms, ambulance companies, and vehicle-towing businesses. He said the signals were made use of "by those for whom they were not intended."

Another proposed change would see safety regulations put into effect to control the erection of radio and television antenna for receiving purposes. Marler said the controls, to be administered by a staff of inspectors, are needed because some of "these high and elaborate structures could be hazardous to life, limb and property."

Dulles Backs Pearson View

U.S., Canada Closely Linked Without Specific Undertakings

OTTAWA (CP)—The United States does not expect Canada to support the U.S. blindly on policies which do not commend themselves to Canadians, John Foster Dulles, U.S. State Secretary, said today.

He told a press conference it is not true that the U.S. does not pay attention to views expressed by Ottawa.

The policy of each country should be to conduct itself so that it would win the moral support of the other. For instance, Canada could not expect to count on U.S. support if it alienated U.S. public opinion in some adventure. It was highly unlikely this would ever occur, however.

Mr. Dulles said the U.S. welcomes the Toronto speech earlier this week of External Affairs Minister Pearson, who said that if Canada or the U.S. were involved in major war, it would be unthinkable for the other to remain neutral.

NO ASSURANCE GIVEN

There was no explicit undertaking by either country to support the other outside of treaties such as NATO. Canada had not given any assurances it would support the U.S.

But the destinies of the two countries were so closely linked both would be involved in any major conflict. Mr. Dulles was asked whether the U.S. expects Canada to support it in any Asian war.

He replied that that was a matter for Canadians to decide. There were no treaties which created obligations for Canada in the Far East.

Mr. Dulles said the outstanding topic so far in his talks with Canadaian officials is continental defense.

U.S. Foreign Policy Attacked

An attack on U.S. foreign policy was made by Dr. Scott Nearing, leftist American author and university professor, when he spoke Thursday night to a capacity audience of 200 in the new CCF Hall, Courtney Street.

Dr. Nearing said if the U.S had to choose between war and depression, those in authority would choose war.

If America halted its defense spending now 15,000,000 people would be idled.

At one point he said: "If capitalism stands for war and Communism for peace, then the Communists and I stand together and the capitalists and I stand apart."

"The peoples of the world must establish a world authority, with all nations included, with just enough power to maintain order and peace.

He added that a revision of the UN Charter is on the 1955 UN agenda, and if people around the world get together to strengthen it, it could yet be made to work, he said.

He called U.S. foreign affairs "a menace to the whole human family."

"Last year the US spent on arms more than the total income of Great Britain, $15,000,000,000 more. Her fleet is greater than all the other navies combined and her air force the same.

Dr. Nearing and his wife, retired to a farm in Maine, have undertaken a speaking tour across the States because they say they feel people interested in world peace should work toward it. He has gauged war resistance during his tour.

"There is a real resistance movement in the United States, but in its early stages."

Dulles Defends Publication of Yalta Papers

Declines Comment on Displeasure Shown by Prime Minister Churchill

OTTAWA (BUP)—U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told a press conference today that the publication of official documents by all countries would be a good thing for public information and historical accuracy.

He declined to comment directly on British disappointment at the publication of the Yalta papers.

Referring to reporters' questions about British complaints that there were "some inaccuracies" in the American version, he told the press conference the full picture would not be obtained until each government publishes its own records.

DISAGREES

Dulles disagreed with reporters who suggested the publication of the Yalta papers would make confidential discussions more difficult between national leaders.

He said three volumes of personal memoirs already had been published by major participants in the Yalta conference. Having survived these three major hazards of publication, he said, he doubted whether a fourth publication would make future discussions any more difficult.

Citing the practice of American public figures to take many of their papers with them when they leave office, he said it was possible that the private papers would be more accurate than government documents.

NORMAL PRACTICE

The Yalta papers were published at this time in the normal course of the state department's practice of periodically publishing such papers, generally on a 10-year basis, he said.

He told reporters the British government had been informed. But when reporters pressed him about the reaction of Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill he said the British prime minister had already expressed his views.

Dulles told the press conference there was no intention to denounce the Yalta agreements between Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill. But he pointed out the agreements made there were executive agreements between the three wartime heads of state and that they were not legally binding on the United States.

Yalta Papers Feed Political Fires in States

Biggest Issue In 1956 Election

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democrats contended today that the Eisenhower administration's sudden publication of the long-secret Yalta documents may impair delicate foreign relations with valued Allies.

At the same time the Republicans set out to make what political hay they could from the touchy documents made public by the State Department Wednesday night.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) said the Yalta conference attended by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill and Josef Stalin will become "as big a campaign issue as the 1929 depression," with which the Democrats belabored the GOP for two decades.

Most Democrats felt publication of the papers was an anticlimax after years of GOP accusations. But Republicans lost no time in claiming the papers bore out their repeated charges of a "sell-out" of Poland and China to the Russians at Yalta.

Administration officials denied any political motive in releasing the papers. They said the papers would have been made public much sooner except for an "honest disagreement" with the British.

Britain Angry, Europe Critical

LONDON (UP)—One of Europe's angriest postwar squalls of criticism against the United States gathered momentum today.

Most governments remained officially silent although Prime Minister Winston Churchill has rebuked the U.S. in Commons for publishing its records of Yalta secrets.

Moscow still had not commented, but the Kremlin was expected to react with anger and that future relations between the West and Moscow might suffer.

West Europe's newspapers spoke out freely, mostly against publication of the documents. Copenhagen newspapers compared Secretary of State Dulles to a bull in an international china shop.

Anger mounted in the British press, members of the House of Commons today called on Prime Minister Churchill to set the record straight on Washington's Yalta papers.

The polar bear is an exceedingly strong swimmer and is known to have crossed a strait 40 miles wide.

Road Smash Kills Traffic Officers And Their Wives

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (BUP)—Two policemen and their wives were instantly killed Thursday when their car crashed head-on into a bus 10 miles from here.

Police said the car was demolished when it rammed into the heavy bus. Nobody aboard the bus was injured.

The victims were Inspector Make Mahoney, director of the traffic control office in St. John's; his wife, Constable Vincent Leonard and Leonard's wife.

SNAFU BLAMED ON BRITAIN

WASHINGTON (UP)—The State Department says the blame was in London, not Washington, if Prime Minister Churchill was short-circuited on the Yalta documents.

"The British requested to see all the proofs. They were sent to London last December. So far as we know, they are still there."

Diplomats say it was inevitable something would go wrong in the strained Washington-London liaison

Sympathizers Organize Building Fund For Burned-Out Happy Valley Family

A building fund has been started for the Gordon Minckler family, whose Happy Valley home was destroyed by fire Monday.

The fund is being co-ordinated by Mrs. F. W. Slater, 140 Grainger, Langford.

Mrs. Slater will act as co-ordinator for contributions of money, household goods and clothing items to get the Minckler's back on their feet after the disastrous $10,000 blaze.

Most pressing need is for a house, Mrs. Slater says, and to date about $600 has been contributed toward the purchase of property and building materials.

Further donations should be made out to Gordon Minckler and addressed to Mrs. Slater, Box 71, Langford Post Office. Persons wishing to contribute home furnishing or clothing should contact Mrs. Slater first to avoid overlapping. Her telephone number is 8-1525.

Shoes for the seven-member family are scarce, but other items of wearing apparel are fairly plentiful.

Mrs. W. J. Wishart, Wishart Road, has offered to store household goods

For the next two months, the family has been offered the rental of a house on Kildew Road in Colwood. At the end of that time it is hoped a start will have been made on their own home.

Victoria branch of B.C. government Employees' Association has asked membership through its benevolent fund committee to assist the Minckler's with the building fund.

Colwood Women's Institute has agreed to a $25 donation; an anniversary supper by St. John's Church, Colwood, and St. Matthew's Church, Langford, collected a sum for the fund; Belmont High School's play "The Courting of Marie Jenvrin" will provide additional monies when it is presented tonight; Luxton Ratepayers' Association, Happy Valley PTA and Metchosin Farmers' Institute will hold a dance in Luxton Hall, March 25.

Who Owns Canada?

LAST YEAR, THE BUREAU OF Statistics tells us, foreign investment in Canada declined for the first time since the war. It amounted to $325 millions, some $73 millions less than in 1953.

Discussing these matters in Parliament, Mr. Alistair Stewart, a CCF member for Winnipeg, is appalled by "the almost insignificant part which Canadian capital itself has played in the opening up of this country . . . Canadian capitalists are frightened, cowardly creatures depending always on outsiders to do the job they should be doing themselves. . . Canadian capitalism has abdicated in favor of the foreigners."

What are the facts? They are the direct opposite to Mr. Stewart's version. They are, in brief, that Canadians themselves, while still importing foreign capital, have steadily increased their own ownership of Canadian industry.

Writing in The Winnipeg Free Press, Mr. Grant Dexter notes that Canadian industry was valued in 1953, the last year of record, at about $34 billions. This figure does not include investment in farm land and urban real estate, almost entirely owned by Canadians.

Of the industrial investment Canadians are estimated to own $23 billions and foreign capitalists $11 billions. "In other words," says Mr. Dexter, "Canadians owned a little more than $2 for every $1 owned by a foreign investor. In 1939 the ratio was about $1.60 to $1." The proportion of Canadian investment has risen and that of foreign investment has fallen.

Another calculation presented to Parliament by Mr. J. M. Macdonnell, a distinguished Conservative, shows that between 1945 and 1952 the increase in foreign investment was $3.2 billions. But the increase in total investment was $24.4 billions. That is to say, foreign investment in the great postwar boom was under 13 per cent of the total. Some 87 per cent of the money needed to rebuild the Canadian economy and effect an industrial revolution was saved and invested by Canadians themselves.

At the same time Canada was exporting capital—lending money to Britain, for example, and buying American securities. Altogether it will be found that Canadians themselves saved an amount equal to the entire postwar investment within Canada. For a population of our size and an economy at our present stage of development this is a record of saving and investment probably without precedent in history.

At any rate, the proportion of foreign ownership in Canada as a whole has been dropping since the war. In 1939 $6.9 billions of foreign money had been invested in Canada and this represented 38 per cent of all investment. By 1951 $9.5 billions of foreign money had been invested here but it represented only 32 per cent of all investment. Thus foreign investment has increased, but Canadian investment has increased more rapidly.

The United States, naturally enough, is by far the largest foreign investor here. At the beginning of last year it had put $8.6 billions into Canada as against $2 billions invested by Britain. The American stake in our future is thus large in purely financial terms but unfortunately is not widely understood by many Americans who would damage Canada, if they could, by restrictive tariffs. Britain's stake is also large and is growing. Last year Britain managed to invest $50 millions here, the highest figure since the war, and its money is highly welcome.

At the same time Canada, which once depended almost completely on foreign money for expansion, last year invested $70 millions abroad. We are not only huge savers and investors in our own resources but are becoming substantial exporters of capital, for the benefit of foreign countries and ourselves.

Mr. Stewart obviously did not bother to look up the figures before he denounced the cowardice of Canadian investors.

Dean Philip Beattie

NEWS THAT DEAN PHILIP R. Beattie has been elected Anglican Bishop of the Kootenay diocese will be received in this city with both gratification and regret: gratification that, at the comparatively youthful age of 43 he has been called to this high service, and regret that the appointment will take him away from Christ Church Cathedral, of which he has been an ornament for the past three years.

Dean Beattie has added much to the life of the Cathedral. Under his direction, the Cathedral Completion Campaign pressed foward in the job of finishing the West Front towers; more than $200,000 was raised for this purpose. Growth of the Cathedral under Dean Beattie's tenure is reflected in a steady increase in the number of worshipers for the "Mother Church" of the Anglican faith on this island.

As a preacher, Dean Beattie won a wide audience with his scholarly, well-reasoned and thought-provoking sermons. He brought to his pulpit a modesty and humility which reflected his broad background of training in this country as layman, preacher and RCAF chaplain.

His new diocese, covering 83,000 square miles in the southeast corner of British Columbia, will present imposing challenges to the new Bishop. Those who have come to know and admire Philip Beattie are confident that he will discharge his duties with high distinction.

New Minister—New Courthouse?

VICTORIA AND VANCOUVER Island have been given cabinet representation by the appointment of Mr. W. N. Chant to the new portfolio of public works divorced from highways.

This reflects a belated recognition of the capital city and a highly important part of the province. That recognition the Social Credit Government, for political reasons if for no other, could not withhold indefinitely.

How important Mr. Chant's department may be will depend to a large extent on the work the minister can accomplish. It could be substantial.

Within his jurisdiction falls the responsibility for provincial public buildings. It is not to be assumed that the minister's activities in that realm will be limited to maintenance only. Such a definition of duties would reduce him to the position of a building superintendent.

Why it has been necessary to divide the department may still be puzzling to a large section of the public. In other regimes excellent ministers have given commendable and thoroughly adequate service, both on highway programs and other projects.

Still, if it is a Social Credit conviction that Mr. Gaglardi can handle highways only, and must be freed of other duties, the change should give Mr. Chant the opportunity to apply undivided energies to the tasks assigned to him.

What better start could he make on his new work than a new courthouse for Victoria?

The present building on Bastion Street has outlived its usefulness. Year after year, appeals have been made to the Government for a new one. Most recently they have been pressed by Mr. George Gregory, Victoria's Liberal member, who recalls plans drafted in his boyhood for a structure to replace the mid-Victorian relic still in operation.

Victorians of all shades of opinion would be delighted to see an administration which Mr. Bennett calls a Government that "gets things done," justify his claims in this particular.

Tribute for Outstanding Service

HIS FELLOW VICTORIANS and others throughout this nation familiar with the service he has rendered, will agree with the sincere tribute paid most recently to Hon. R. W. Mayhew.

"In his own quiet way," says Dr. N. A. M. MacKenzie of the University of British Columbia, "Mr. Mayhew has done an outstanding job for Canada."

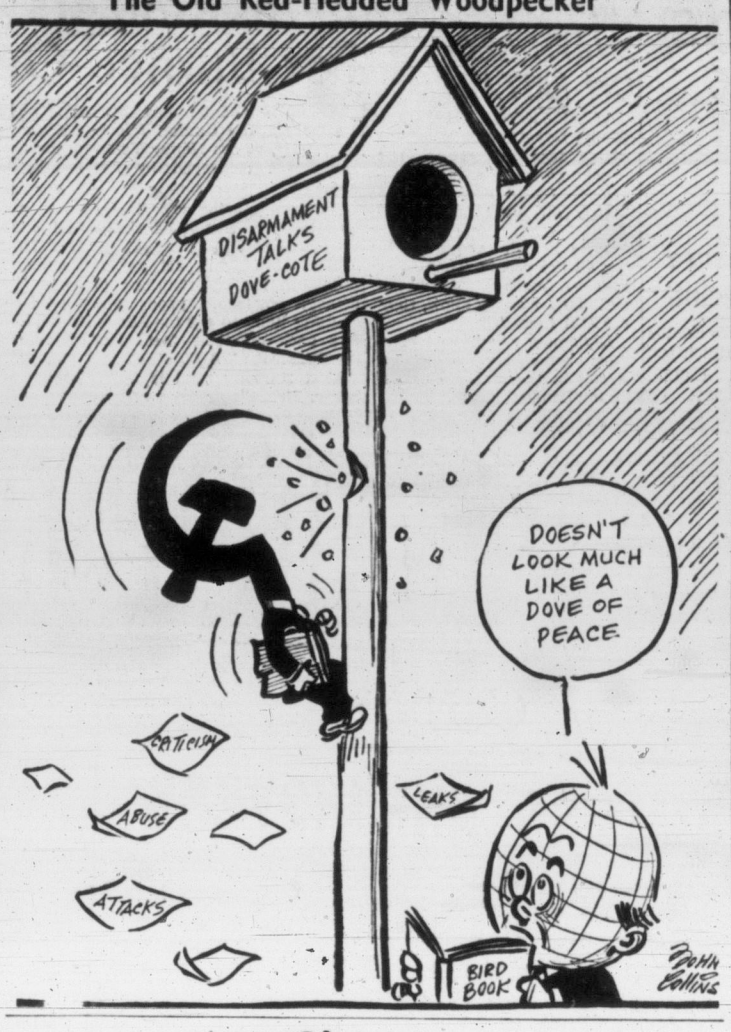
In appreciation of that job the university will confer upon the distinguished Victorian an honorary doctorate of laws at its spring convocation.

To this community the award should be particularly satisfying. Its recipient has risen high in the councils of state and of international affairs. Yet onerous as have been some of his duties, he has never ceased to be a Victorian, nor has his interest in this city and its people ever waned.

Many honors have come to Mr. Mayhew, though not of his seeking. But one thing he has sought and has found—the opportunity to serve Canada and Canadians. That he has done superlatively well.

His accomplishments add point to the remarks of the University president who, announcing Mr. Mayhew's acceptance of the University's accolade, says "It is as much an honor for us as it is for him."

The Old Red-Headed Woodpecker



Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

DID YOU know that a company can now hire another company to get out its annual report? For some reason or other, this strikes me as funny, in a quiet way. It is Public Relations gone mad. Though I believe it is called Stockholder Relations, not Public Relations. A company specializing in Stockholder Relations will also handle such amazingly delicate and technical tasks as sending proxies out for the shareholder to sign and return. I don't think any passenger actually travels with the proxy to show the shareholder where to sign it and how to dip a pen in the inkwell. But no doubt that day will come.

Brock

I HAVE before me a Christmas card got out by a firm of Stockholder Relations experts. This card was presumably sent to grown-up businessmen . . . quite big-shot businessmen, since they had to make decisions on annual reports, etc. Yet the card was designed for kids. And not normal kids either, but kids polluted by cuteness. On the cover was a picture of Santa Claus in a space-helmet. He holds a file of documents, stamped with the monogram of the firm. Behind him stand three enormous space-ships, also with the monogram. In front of him stand five space-gnomes or space-pixies, ready to be briefed by S. Claus. Each of them carries a knapsack marked PROXIES.

IN THE next picture, the three space-ships are dropping proxies by parachute all over an Earth-town. Some proxies are even landing on a church. The whole thing doesn't seem to make much sense. The proxies are presumably coming from a company on another planet, are a branch of Santa's activities, and are scattered wholesale over the world to non-shareholders. What will the harvest be? I suppose the implied message is this: "Our proxies are out of this world."

Well, when I control some titanic corporation, I'm not going to have any S.R. firm getting out my annual report for me. Not on your life. For one thing, I don't want cuteness, lest the shareholders suspect me of having got all frivolous, or even suspect me of having blown my top, flipped my lid, snapped my cap, or erupted through my mental crust. They would think old Brocky was no longer at the helm of the mighty corporation. In fact, they would think he was no longer answering his own personal helm. And they would be right.

I HAVE seen cute animal reports got out (obviously by specialists) in the form of bogus newspapers, picture magazines, and other novelties. Before long, I expect to see such things issued (at enormous cost) in the shape of comic-books, three-D illusions, untearable linen for the use of infants, and so on. We might, for biscuit companies, even have edible annual reports . . . you couldn't get anything much cuter than that. In fact, you could have an annual report recorded on a long-playing disc, and the disc would be made of synthetic toffee, thus providing a double novelty . . . edible and audible . . . how's that? Awful enough? Getting warm, anyhow.

BUT we'll have none of that in my walnut-panelled boardroom. Picasso wouldn't like it. (Picasso will be doing the decor, I forgot to tell you. Some of the directors may not like it at first, but they will when they see the bill.) Besides, I want to write the annual report myself. If I am not allowed to have any relations with the shareholders myself, then where are my Stockholder Relations? The whole thing becomes a mockery. You can no more buy a President's Report than you can buy the love of a Good Woman. Less, if anything. And that goes for the Chairman's Remarks too. Nothing ghost-written.

Ghost-writing would be just as insulting as the picture of a space-elf. What ghost-writer, for example, could capture the flavor of the Chairman of Smith's Potato Crisps at the annual meeting on July 7, 1953? (If you don't believe the following quotations, consult an advertisement in The Spectator of July 10, 1953.)

AMONG oher things, the Chairman said "The demand for Smith's Crisps continues unabated, and . . . we find evidence on all hands that our claim that 'There are no Crisps like Smith's' is truly well-founded. . . In this great Coronation year I may be forgiven for reminding you of that great figure of the last Elizabethan reign, Sir Walter Raleigh, who introduced the potato to this country (England). In the recent celebrations Smith's Crisps have played their part in feeding the enthusiastic crowds and large quantities of our Crisps have been sold among them, in the parks and elsewhere."

As I say, I am not making that up. Nor, obviously, was a mere Stockholder Relations man making it up. He hasn't got the touch. If he did have the touch, he would not be an S.R. man. He would be a very successful dramatist.

CHANGE AND DECAY IN ALL AROUND I SEE

TO anyone who grows tired of complaints about a mannerless new generation, this tiny story may be refreshing enough. A contemporary of mine (aged about 40) was arguing with a very rude and very silly and very old woman on the telephone. When he rang off he turned to me and said "You know, the manners of our elders are not what they were."

As Our Readers See It

GOOD ENOUGH FOR TOWN MEETING

Had Mr. F. H. Partridge listened to "Town Meeting" radio program last Saturday, no doubt he would have been further shocked to hear Scott Nearing as one of the two speakers. I do hope that he won't have this excellent program banned from the air for this one slip from the path of virtue.

Like "Town Meeting", the C.C.F. exists primarily for the consideration of human problems, together with appropriate solutions. In carrying on our work we rub shoulders with people and publications of all persuasions, since knowledge is a fruit that grows on a tree with many branches, the entire human race.

The spewing of venom against our fellow man is not part of our business, it is indulged in by those politically immature souls who cannot tolerate people with opinions divergent from their own.

We prefer to carry on our job of learning to live peacably with our fellow man, aided by the knowledge of such competent authorities as Scott Nearing, Leo Huberman, and others who chance to visit Victoria.

When Mr. Partridge can claim a similar record of social service and has made as many contributions to the cause of human progress as either of the above gentlemen, he will have no difficulty in getting reputable organisations to sponsor meetings for him.

DR. NEARING AND MR. PARTRIDGE

From the statements of F. H. Partridge it appears that this association should clarify several matters with regard to Dr. Scott Nearing, who addressed a public meeting under our auspices on Thursday, March 17.

We do not intend to engage in debate with Mr. Partridge over the details of half-truth, error and innuendo with which he condemns Scott Nearing and the CCF. Suffice it to say that Dr. Nearing is not a member of the Communist Party, and that his activities in support of civil liberties in the United States are such as would meet with the approval of all intelligent people.

In sponsoring Dr. Nearing we neither endorsed nor rejected his explanation of 'World Events and International Relations'. In our opinion the people of Victoria are quite able to judge the value of Dr. Nearing's theories without the assistance of Mr. Partridge.

SOCIAL CREDIT'S 'FREE ECONOMY'

A recent editorial in your well-intentioned columns recalled that "it has been argued here, from the literature of the party, that Social Credit, denouncing Socialism, must end—if it is ever seriously attempted on a national scale—in state control of everything."

Those who understand Social Credit, however, know that it will operate best only in a completely free economy. Peculiar that you and those on your party line have an entirely different understanding of the same thing. The Socialists have a much more realistic view of the matter when they say, heavily loaded with their own mendacious propaganda, of course, that "Social Credit is just an attempt to bolster up the tottering capitalist system."

So far as we know, nobody has ever claimed that the National Consumer Dividend to all requires any control over anybody or anything. It may be that the "complete control" propaganda flows from a provision C. H. Douglas once made to introduce his "compensated price discount." He suggested that each firm participating in the scheme be "registered", and required to sell at an agreed mark-up. This is entirely unnecessary, as anyone who understands the sudden and drastic rewards and punishments of the free market system should know.

As a matter of fact, the price discount, while intellectually fascinating to some, is also quite unnecessary to operation of Social Credit. The consumer dividend is all that is required. But while we are on it, we may point out that the Douglas discount mechanism is now in use by the federal (Liberal) government for selling surplus butter to certain institutions at a reduction. Why no outcry against the "state control" in this case?

NEW POLICE STATION

Mayor Harrison is to be commended on his stand to move the hearing of Juvenile cases away from the Victoria Police station. I suggest it is time the mayor and aldermen moved the police and the police court away from the present building.

As many citizens of Victoria, Saanich and Esquimalt know, Her Majesty's police court is reached by way of a fire escape. Other offices have just about as difficult routes of entry. To get to the police desk clerk you travel down a back alley, and to get to the detective office from the main building, you travel a series of corridors and steps.

The facilities in the building are atrocious. If you have to use the lavatory, don't. The witness room has light, just enough to distinguish it from a dark void.

The Police Station was a grand building in its day. It has served Victoria well. But Victoria has outgrown it. A new building is needed.

What a pity our law, which is a vital and living element in our community, has to be dealt with in such drab, inaccessible, deteriorated surroundings. Easy access to our courts of law is of paramount importance. This applies especially to our public courts where at least one half of our citizens during their lifetime will have occasion to visit.

It is good to see our mayor moving in the right direction for a proper juvenile court room. Perhaps our city council will move towards that new police building with its bright court rooms, witness rooms, proper facilities for the police and for the public. I am sure all the citizens of Victoria would be behind a council that did build a proper police station and court building.

MEDICAL BENEFITS

It is indeed astounding to hear that the Provincial Government is introducing a plan to provide medical service to M.L.A.'s, who are, on the average, a prosperous section of the community.

They are already getting much improved pay and pensions (which seem out of place for about a month's work a year). Surely a medical plan should embrace the whole population as in other parts of the Commonwealth and certainly not begin with those well provided for.

The Federal Government keeps saying that it is only waiting for the co-operation of the Provinces to introduce a Canada-wide scheme. When will our Provincial Government give a lead?

ASTOUNDED.

The Cabinet Finds Two Ends to the Gas Pipeline

DECISION of the cabinet to meet last Saturday indicated the importance attached to the need for a quick decision on the Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited proposition that the federal government undertake to guarantee its bonds. A Saturday meeting of the cabinet is highly unusual, particularly when parliament is in session. The ministers work long hours throughout the week and usually strive to keep Saturday and Sunday clear so that they can catch up on some of their desk work and have at least one day of rest. But there is urgenecy in the request for assistance from the pipe line company according to its proponents and accordingly the cabinet agreed to hold a Saturday meeting which lasted for three hours.

Mackie

RESULT

Prime Minister St. Laurent when he emerged from behind the closed doors of the privy council chamber and found himself surrounded by newspaper reporters, immediately remarked that he had "nothing to say." However, reporters plied him with questions and he began answering them.

Bit by bit the prime minister revealed indirectly by his answers that the proposition put forward by the company for a guarantee of its bonds was not acceptable to the cabinet. This appears to be a victory for the position adopted by Mr. Harris, the finance minister. He had opposed Mr. Howe, the minister of trade and commerce, who had put the company's proposition to cabinet. The finance minister has consistently been opposed to the idea of a bond guarantee.

Replies by the P.M. indicated too that he was against the bond guarantee and wanted the Industrial Development Bank to try and work out some other plan. It may involve the government taking an equity in the company.

SIGNIFICANT

Reporters regarded it as significant that Mr. St. Laurent revealed that the cabinet had not even agreed on the principle of providing assistance for the pipe line company. It was also significant that when one newsman asked if he thought that a start might be made this spring the P.M. snapped back: "I'm not one of those who has been organizing this project."

* * *

Australian Prime Minister Menzies was asked a question at his press conference here that took him by surprise. The question was whether the Australian government, under the Royal Marriages Act, had been sounded out for its views on the possible marriage of Princess Margaret. He was startled and replied: "Good Lord! I have heard speculative stories for years that the princess is marrying "A", "B" or "C" or somebody else." A correspondent asked, "All at once?" "I don't know whether simultaneously or in series," retorted Mr. Menzies amid laughter. Then he added: "I am a great admirer of Princess Margaret and would not dare embarrass her by joining in the argument."

* * *

SHORT CAREER

Now chief opposition spokesman on foreign affairs John Diefenbaker, the lone Conservative in the House from Saskatchewan, was at one time a prairie school teacher. This little known fact about his early career was related by the member in a public speech here marking education week. He said his teaching career only lasted for a few months before he became a lawyer. "When the inspector arrived in my school one day I was out gopher hunting. But gopher hunting was not on the curriculum, so that ended my days as a teacher."

* * *

EMBARRASSED?

Mr. Diefenbaker's predecessor in the role of chief foreign policy critic in parliament was the late Gordon Graydon. A delegate to the United Nations several years ago Mr. Graydon was introduced by External Affairs Minister Pearson to Mr. Malik the Russian delegate as "opposition spokesman on external affairs in the Canadian parliament." After an exchange of civilities Mr. Graydon remarked to Mr. Malik: "I'd like to meet some of your opposition boys." Mr. Graydon's remark ended the conversation. Mr. Malik moved off.

CONTINUATION

There is little likelihood that the death penalty will be abolished in Canada for capital cases. But there is a possibility that another method other than hanging might be substituted for carrying out the penalty. The gas chamber or electric chair might be proposed as a method for execution.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

Road to the Isles

WHEN we were waterfront kids, it used to be high adventure to pack a lunch, climb into an open boat and head for a day on one of the offshore islands.

Sometimes the outings were made by a couple of boys. On other occasions, if the boat was big enough and had an engine, the affair turned into a picnic for one or more families.

Stott

Whatever its form, the event was a voyage to a strange land. Visiting an offshore island isn't the same as spending a day at the beach. It's an exploration into unknown, or little known, territory. It's the small excitement of an open boat journey through tides and waters that can be treacherous.

There's the touch of danger in it. And there's the Columbus reaction of stepping onto a shore that isn't stale through too great familiarity.

On those islands of boyhood a youngster might see mink slinking among the weather-silvered logs left high above tidewater by a forgotten storm. He might, depending on the season, find a field of wild lilies in bloom, with a plot of small potato-cactus bristling on high ground. He might wander through a forest of tall and slender firs to pick lady slippers. Or he might, with luck, stumble on the nesting ground of gulls.

SECRETS OF THE ISLANDS

The islands had secrets to yield. On one an old fisherman's cabin of driftwood rotted gently to its grave beside a shallow well. On another an all but abandoned Indian village climbed tiredly above the shingle beach. A third held its ghost house in a sheltered cove—relic of a thriving rum-running era that saw sleek speedboats at its once active wharf.

These forgotten monuments of other days, the seabirds and the natural beauty of the islands held a unique attraction for youngsters and some elders. Perhaps the appeal is lasting. Perhaps a younger generation today finds in them a fascination no less. Perhaps boys in their small boats still make their journeys of exploration to the islands.

But as time goes on, fewer islands remain unused or open to the transient adventurer. More and more of them pass into private hands.

In time, unless action is taken, there may be none left open to the public—and the public, living more and more in highly urban suroundings, will need these spots for outdoor recreation.

U.S. PARKS ACTION

Probably that is the reason why some U.S. state parks departments have followed the policy of establishing waterfront campsites for yacht and power boat tourists on attractive islands and appropriate coastal points. Presumably it is the reason why other park authorities have reserved some islands for organizational campsites, where sponsors may take groups for camping periods running from a week to a month.

In spite of the tremendous increase in power boat owners in British Columbia, few such reservations have been made by the provincial parks authorities. They haven't been needed yet. Nor has there been a demand for islands as camping grounds for groups. But the time will come when that demand is made. If nothing is done in the meantime, there won't be any islands left for such development—or if there are, they'll be costly when authorities want to buy them.

Just possibly the parks people should look into the question now. Development may be a few years off, but reservation of property shouldn't be delayed too long. And if the authorities are interested in the proposal, they could find very excellent islands within a rifle-shot of Greater Victoria—at least one that is far more available than they may think.

A little foresight and inquiry at this date could save a lot of expense in the future.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Glaucoma and Diamox

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Dr. Bernard Becker, of the Department of Ophthalmology, Washington University, St. Louis, tells me that the results of the use of Diamox in the treatment of glaucoma, a common and serious disease of the eyes, continues to be most encouraging.

He and his associates have just presented at the International Congress of Ophthalmology records of a series of 200 patients who had been benefitted by the treatment. In these cases the new drug helps to tide the patients over acute flare-ups, or it gets them into better shape for an operation.

Alvarez

Dr. Becker is planning to report a series of cases of glaucoma controlled with Diamox when other means had failed. Diamox helps most in the cases in which the patient's glaucoma has not been well controlled by the usual polocarpine drops, which cause the pupil of the eye to grow small. Dr. Becker's group feel strongly that Diamox must not be expected to take the place of pilocarpine; it should be used with pilocarpine.

The pilocarpine improves the outflow of fluid from the eye while Diamox inhibits the inflow of fluids into the eye. In many instances the use of the two drugs has made it unnecessary for the patient to have the operation in which a little hole is made so that the fluids will not so accumulate in the eye as to destroy vision.

Obviously, no one should try Diamox on himself. Diamox is a sulfonamide drug which, curiously, doesn't kill germs but helps the body to get rid of water. Anyone with glaucoma should always be in the hands of a good ophthalmologist. He must take the ophthalmologist's advice as to what should be done.

SMALLPOX CAN STRIKE

In this country there are hundreds of thousands of people who fight vaccination. They question if it ever did any good, which, of course, is utterly stupid; to believe that shows a complete lack of knowledge of medical history, and of the fact that up to the year 1789, when vaccination was started, terrible epidemics of smallpox were constantly ravaging many parts of the world.

In 1903, when I spent a summer in Mexico, where in the old days few people were vaccinated, I found almost everyone on the streets more or less severely pock-marked. One big reason for the public hatred of vaccination is the foolish assumption that the danger of epidemics is all gone. It isn't.

I just read in Time that recently in a French seaside resort a serious epidemic of smallpox flared up. Quickly it caused 68 persons to be seriously ill, and it killed 14. Fortunately, 150,000 of the people in the neighborhood were quickly vaccinated and, as always happens when this is done, the epidemic slowed down and came to an end. What had happened was that a French Army non-com, just back from Indo-China, had brought the virus home with him. As I write, I see that the smallpox has spread to Paris.

TRANSPLANTING THYROID GLAND

A way recently discovered of getting around the difficulty of transplanting organs and having them stick and function is by taking immature tissue from infants just dead. Thus, recently, Drs. Julia A. Sterling and Ralph Goldsmith, of the Albert Einstein Medical Centre, in Philadelphia, reported that they had taken the thyroid gland from the neck of a 21-day-old baby who had just died, and had transplanted it into the groin of a 29-year-old woman who badly needed extra thyroid substance. The operation was done just two years ago, and the woman has been well ever since. This would indicate that the gland has lived and has kept functioning.

This, of course, is cheering news. As I have said several times in this column, surgeons can now transplant organs and hook up the necessary blood vessels; their only trouble has been that in two or three weeks the tissue dies and ceases to function. The body of the acceptor destroys the foreign tissue. Apparently the tissues of infants are not so distinctive and unique as are the tissues of adults.

I read the other day that in the great Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, in Boston, a kidney was donated by a man to his alike-twin brother whose two kidneys had become so badly disease as to be almost useless. Because alike-twins are made of one ovum their tissues are chemically alike, and hence when transplanted from one twin to another, they remain, and remain functioning.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS

Some readers have written asking where they can learn more about artificial limbs. I just saw a book published by Paul E. Klopsteg and Phillip D. Wilson on "Human Limbs and Their Substitutes" (McGraw Hill, $12.00). This book tells of the results of engineering and medical studies on the design and fitting of artificial limbs, as well as on the care and training of amputees. This book would surely interest many persons who have suffered the loss of an extremity.

CITY HANDICAPPED TO VISIT SEATTLE

"Handicapped Week" is being planned by the Canadian League of the Handicapped here and will include a visit by league executives to Seattle where members will appear on television.

The group will also visit a Seattle factory which employs 300 disabled persons.

In Victoria, there will be window displays and the film, "Handicapped Unlimited," will be shown, and the harmonica band of the group will give a public concert. The league meets tonight at 7.30 in James Bay Hall, Dallas and Pilot.

Farm Import Curbs Block GATT Plan

BY HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA (CP) — The 34-member countries of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade have decided to form it into a permanent body to be known as the Organization for Trade Co-operation.

The new name will be officially unveiled in the 34 capitals next week, it was learned here.

Member countries, who have agreed to abide by a two-week silence on their Geneva deliberations, then will announce decisions reached at the four months of talks designed to tighten international trade rules and reduce import curbs.

REPORT ON MEETING

They will report both success and failure—success in getting the countries to agree to limit import restrictions imposed because of currency exchange problems, and failure in getting the United States to agree to similar reductions of its import curbs on farm products.

The agreements to be announced will show, it is understood, that the U.S. has been granted waiver rights to make its import curbs on dairy products and grain legal in the eyes of GATT members. Previously Canada and overseas countries protested the restrictions on the grounds they contravened the terms of GATT.

The agreements also will show that the member countries have agreed to extend the tariff concessions existing under GATT for a three-year period to mid-1958.

MEET IN GENEVA

Members also have tentatively agreed—though this may not be shown in the announcements—to meet in Geneva again next fall to review the revamped trade organization machinery and possibly to start a new round of tariff negotiations aimed at further reductions in world tariff barriers.

The fall negotiations will depend on whether the U.S. Congress by that time arms President Eisenhower with the power he has requested to reduce American tariffs by 15 per cent during the next three years.

The U.S. House of Representatives already has approved his program which now awaits Senate passage.

350 to Join In Anglican Choir Festival

An Anglican choir festival will be held in Christ Church Cathedral on Saturday, May 28.

The idea originated from the service in Memorial Arena last September marking the visit of the Archbishop of Canterbury, when 550 choristers participated.

On this occasion there will be about 350 singers in the Cathedral from about 16 choirs. Choirs are coming from Alberni, Courtenay, Qualicum and Nanaimo.

Choirs from the city churches will sing from the west gallery of the Cathedral and have been given music of a slightly greater difficulty than has been allotted to the smaller churches from up-Island.

The latter choirs will be massed in the chancel and will lead the singing of the hymns and psalms and also participate in some of the anthems.

BOY CHORISTERS

There will be approximately 60 to 70 boy choristers present from the choirs of St. Mary's, Oak Bay; Shawnigan Lake School chapel and the Cathedral. They will sing descants to the hymns and the first verse of the beautiful anthem, "Come, Holy Ghost, Our Souls Inspire." As the festival is to take place on the eve of Whitsunday, most of the music has been chosen for its association with this festival. It includes a modern anthem by Dr. Henry Ley, "Come, Thou Holy Spirit, Come," and Tallis' beautiful setting of the words, "If ye love me, keep my commandments."

The canticles will be sung to a setting by Dr. Ralph Vaughan Williams, acknowledged as Britain's greatest living composer, and two of the hymns are to tunes composed by him.

A committee appointed by the archbishop to organize this festival consists of the Dean, Canon Tomalin and Dr Douglas Kendall. All the musical arrangements are in the hands of Graham Steed, the Cathedral organist. Miss Ann Van der Voort, the honorary assistant organist at the Cathedral, and James Gerry, organist of St. Mary's, Oak Bay, will share the accompanying.

U.S. Will Release Documents on China

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Eisenhower administration plans an early release of wartime documents designed to repudiate the Truman administration's 1949 "white paper" on U.S. relations with China.

Coming on the heels of the Yalta papers, the new series on China is sure to figure prominently in Republican-Democratic campaigning in the 1956 elections.

The 1949 China "white paper" pinned principal blame for Nationalist China's loss of the mainland on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his Kuomintang party. It rejected the Republican charge that the Democrats at least shared the blame for the loss of China to Communism.

"The unfortunate but inescapable fact is that the ominous result of the civil war in China was beyond the control of the government of the United States," Secretary of State Dean Acheson wrote on July 30, 1949, in the document's letter of transmittal to President Truman.

One prominent administration official told a reporter that many Republicans regard Acheson's statement and the "white paper" as a "whitewash." He said that the Republicans would have their inning now that the Democrats are out of power in the executive branch.

Clear skies are following in the wake of the disturbance, and although some clouds will form on the mountains, most of B.C. will enjoy sunny weather today and tomorrow. However, rain will come to the north coast tomorrow night from a storm now passing across southwestern Alaska.

EVEN NEGRO TURNED GREEN ON THIS ST. PAT'S DAY

Green eggs. Green spaghetti. Green getaway car.

Mix the ingredients with a touch of malarkey, and you have a fine concoction for a St. Patrick's Day yarn.

In Edmonton, Otto Jantz, a district farmer, ate green-shelled eggs for his St. Patrick's Day breakfast. He owns two hens which he said "lay green eggs almost every day."

In Chicago, Club El Bianco, an Italian restaurant, served green spaghetti Thursday.

In Gloucester, N.J., St. Patrick's Day burglars stole a safe from O'Neill's Catering Service and hauled it away in a two-tone green truck.

And in New York police broke up a crap game in Central Park. Everyone scattered, but they collared one of the players, Bobby Childs. Police found a one-ounce packet of pure heroin on Childs.

"This is the luck of the Irish," Childs moaned. "I win an ounce in a crap game and five years in jail."

Adjudicator Shepherd-Munn Scores Hit With Youngsters at City Music Festival

By ANDREY S. D. JOHNSON
Times Music Critic

Each class judged by L. Shepherd-Munn in the Greater Victoria Music Festival becomes a species of master-class, as the gifted British adjudicator, who is also a concert pianist and distinguished teacher, discusses backgrounds and styles, phrasing problems and questions of interpretation.

His formal and sympathetic manner lends a friendly understanding to his criticisms.

In classes held Thursday afternoon, markings were very close, ranging throughout from 81 to 88. Highest mark was 88, awarded to Maureen Carey in the 14-years-and-under class.

Second in this class was Florence Goward, one mark behind with an 87. Judith Andrews was third with 86. Class for 15 years and under was won by Gordon Britton, with 84 marks.

Arla J. Smalley was twice a winner, being tied with Carole Jones in "16 years and under," with 87, and taking first place in the Mozart class, 16 years and under, with 86. Second place in the latter was gained by Gail Morrison, with 84.

Schools choruses continued to arrive and depart by busloads at Metropolitan Church, as Glyndwr Jones judged choral singing at the elementary level and found its standard generally high.

If the youngsters charmed the adjudicator, however, the adjudicator equally charmed the youngsters with his wit, vitality and comradely attitude.

At one point he had all choirs in a class up on the platform and led them through a lively performance of the test song.

Results in these classes were: Class Room Choirs, Grade 2—Tolmie School, 160; Tillicum School, 159, and North Ward School, 158; Grade 6, Sir James Douglas School, 167; Margaret Jenkins, Division 1, 166; Doncaster School, 165.

Class Room Choirs, Grade 7—McKenzie Avenue School, 160. Grade 8—Royal Oak Junior High School, 161. Grade 5—Sir James Douglas, 165.

Queen Contestant Acts, Sings, Writes

Soft-eyed French beauty, 20-year-old Helene A. de la Hitte, 1638 Wilmot, is one of nine candidates entered in the Greater Victoria quest for a queen to rule over the Jaycee-sponsored Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition, May 2-7.

HELENE A. DE LA HITTE

Born in Perigeux, France, nine years a Canadian, and a resident of Victoria for the same length of time, Miss de la Hitte feels if she wins and becomes eligible for the Miss Canada title this summer, she will be benefiting her chosen career—modeling.

"I see in this contest yet another opportunity to further myself in this field and welcome the chance provided by Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce," she said on her application form.

FASHION EDITOR

She has already had a course at Patricia Lee School of Modeling, Portland, Ore., and presently is fashion editor of the Oak Bay Leader.

Not only that, her talents include acting, an ability at singing and at the piano, for which she takes lessons; clothes designing and writing fiction, which has yet to be published.

Jaycees say talent will play a greater role in the basis of judging this year because of the plan to send the winner to Burlington, Ont., for Miss Canada trials, which emphasize special abilities along with physical attributes.

Helene gains the occasional dollar for modeling swim suits made by well-known manufacturers. Here's why: Dark brown hair, 130 pounds, five feet seven inches tall, 36-inch bust, 20-inch waist, 36½-inch hips.

Mother Killed, Tots Found In Wasteland

LA CRUCES, N.M. (UP)—Three small, emaciated children found wandering near the bodies of a man and woman in a dry bed of the Rio Grande underwent treatment today for extreme exposure and malnutrition.

The children apparently had been without food or water since Sunday. Three men cutting salt cedars along the river bed Thursday saw them walking listlessly around in the sand.

"The man in the red car shot my mother," Dolores Vasquez, 2½, said.

The victims—both slain by a .22-calibre rifle found at the scene—were identified as Arthur C. Peterson, about 65, and Monica Vasquez, 42.

The children were identified as Ramona Murphy, 2; Dolores and Ricardo Vasquez, 4. The two older children were the son and daughter of Mrs. Vasquez and the smaller child was her granddaughter.

Rehabilitation Chief At Jubilee Meeting

Clarence Bradbury, co-ordinator of rehabilitation services for British Columbia, will be main speaker at Royal Jubilee Hospital annual meeting tonight at 8, in the Nurses' Residence.

Mr. Bradbury will discuss plans for provincial aid to the task of fitting post polio patients, cerebral palsy victims and persons on workmen's compensation, back into society in a useful capacity.

The meeting will also hold annual elections and hear annual reports.

Three Injured As CPR Train Jumps Tracks

SICAMOUS, B.C. (CP) — The engineer, fireman and brakeman of a southbound Canadian Pacific Railway freight train escaped with minor injuries when the engine and three box cars jumped the rails Thursday.

Rail traffic to the Okanagan was blocked and passengers between here and Kelowna were being transported by bus.

Rail officials said a large piece of ice which fell from a bank 100 feet above the tracks struck the pilot of the engine and caused the derailment.

'DOWN WITH TYPEWRITERS' —ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY

LONDON (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, suggested Thursday that the abolition of the typewriter would improve our thinking and even lessen the threat of war.

The ranking prelate of the Church of England spoke at the inauguration of new headquarters of the British Council of Churches.

He said everyone is now so busy writing and circulating great masses of words that we are losing touch with reality.

"There is a general feeling that the world has gone mad about that kind of thing, and if the typewriter was abolished tomorrow a mass of vapid thought that goes on between human beings would be vastly reduced and the danger of a war would be vastly decreased."

First major event on the local golfing calendar this year is the Times Island Match Play Open to commence at Victoria Club March 27. However, an excellent preview will be presented Sunday at Colwood Club when Colwood members host a select team from other city clubs in a men's challenge match in foursomes and singles. Competing in the event will be majority of the favored players for the Island championship, including defending champion Eric Hibberson. Foursomes will be played in morning and singles in afternoon. (See Tee Topics).

By BILL WALKER

Don't ever think that city golfers don't take their reputations seriously.

And don't ever surmise for a moment that this Sunday's challenge match at Colwood isn't anything more than a normal "buck, buck, buck," shot for the competitors.

There's more interest in this one—Colwood against the "rest"—than there has been for some time hereabouts in golf. And a good thing too. It makes for an ideal kickoff to the tournament season.

Money is around, too, they say, and can be had for the asking. So try asking if you want some.

Colwood's got a lot at stake in the matter of prestige; for after all they proposed the event.

And they'll be ready too.

A check there Thursday revealed that Bill McColl, Vic Painter and Bill Court were out birdie hunting. And not far away was George Bigelow studying the greens, some of which, at the moment are a trifle the worse for the weather, especially Nos. 9 and 16.

Clearing the Air

To straighten out a slight controversy that appears to exist—the foursomes will be played in the morning with the singles in the afternoon.

And clearing up another controversy, this time in lesson form.

A foursome is a two-ball with players hitting alternate shots; while a four-ball is what the term implies—a four-ball.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the big names are appearing on the entry list for the Times Island Match Play Open.

Defending champion Eric Hibberson; is in; so are Bob Morrison and Hugh Morrison. Fact is, entry has now reached 85, with Colwood yet to be heard from. Maximum Oak Bay can handle qualifying day, March 27, is 120.

Lone up-Island representative so far is Gordon Whan, a four-handicapper from Duncan.

Gals Miffed

Some gals, well one at least, is concerned over the fact that a mix-up in dates will likely prevent B.C.'s best from competing in the PNGA at Seattle this year.

Those who do such things have scheduled the PN for July 11. But at the same time, July 10, to be precise, the B.C. Women's Close is booked for Vancouver's Quilchena Club.

And as those who wish to place on the B.C. inter-provincial team for the Canadian championships here in August are required to play in the B.C. event, that means they will miss the PN.

Simply confusing, isn't it?

★ ★ ★

Bunker Blasts: Oak Bay pro Phil Taylor is neutral concerning Sunday's team match at Colwood but if you want Colwood, Phil may answer in the accustomed manner . . . When Shirley Fry goes aisling-it May 7, it will be with Dave Naysmith, the former basketballer . . . Walt Gravlin of Uplands is convinced spring is here to stay: Reason: the skylarks have invaded Uplands—always a sure sign, says Walt . . . Over in Manchester, Eng., they had been having trouble with a pilfering crow named Blackie. Blackie, it has been estimated, has, in his best plagiarism, accounted for 800 golf balls. But now Blackie will swoop no more . . . One fearless birdie hunter, appropriately named C. C. Fear, packed shotgun with clubs one day, and when Blackie swooped, he swooped to a dead-stick landing.

★ ★ ★

New secretary of the B.C. Golf Association is Al Campbell of Vancouver. He replaces Joe Howatt, who resigned this spring.

STAMPS PASS ROYALS

Nothing Sure Yet in WHL

Calgary 7, New Westminster 4; Edmonton 5, Saskatoon 1

The Western Hockey League race goes down to the wire this week-end with much still to be decided.

Calgary Stampeders remained in contention for a playoff position Thursday night by defeating New Westminster Royals, 7-4, to set the stage for the final two crucial games of the year.

Victoria Cougars have a vital part in proceedings although their second-place position is secure.

They meet the Canucks tonight and Royals Saturday, both games on the mainland.

Canucks need a tie or a victory to assure themselves of a playoff berth. Royals need a victory Saturday as they now trail Calgary by one point. However, Calgary has a game remaining with Edmonton and could finish ahead of the Royals with a triumph.

Still, if the Canucks lose tonight then the Royals could, by a victory Saturday, force a tie with the Canucks and their superior goal average would give them a playoff spot over the Royals.

At the present time Vancouver has 69 points, Calgary 68 and New Westminster 67.

PLAYOFF TUESDAY

Playoffs open Tuesday with Cougars hosting the fourth-place team and Edmonton Flyers meeting the third-place finisher.

Pat Lundy paced the Stamps Thursday with three goals, John Michaluk, Jim McFadden, Art Michaluk and Doc Couture got the others. Doug Adam, with two, and Bobby Love and Gord Fashoway scored for the Royals.

In Thursday's other contest Saskatoon Quakers ended their worst season ever with a 5-1 loss to Edmonton Flyers. It was Saskatoon's 40th defeat.

HOSPITALIZED

TORONTO (BUP)—The National Hockey League Toronto Maple Leafs hospitalized Rudy Migay Thursday. Migay became ill during practice and was admitted to hospital with a blood condition that induces periods of extreme fatigue.

KEY GAME SET SUNDAY

Red Wings Now Lead In Crucial NHL Race

By The Canadian Press

The National Hockey League game between Detroit Red Wings and Canadiens at Montreal Thursday night was one of the key engagements of the season.

In it were the individual battles of a goaltender and two high-scoring forwards and the Red Wing bid to overcome Canadiens for the league leadership.

They were almost lost in the fantastic riot that broke out at Montreal Forum over the suspension of Montreal's Maurice Richard by league president Clarence Campbell.

The game, the only one of the night, was forfeited to Detroit at the end of the first period with Wings leading 4-1. It sent Red Wings into first place with a two-point lead over Canadiens.

BREAK FOR RICHARD

It was also a break for Richard and goaltender Terry Sawchuk of the Wings. Here's why:

Richard, suspended for the remainder of the season and the Stanley Cup playoffs, still leads the individual scoring race with 74 points—38 goals and 36 assists.

The two fellows who are threatening his lead, teammates Jean Beliveau and Bernie Geoffrion, failed to gain a point Thursday night. Beliveau is second in the race with 72 points; Geoffrion third with 71.

And Sawchuk, who went into the engagement trailing Harry Lumley of Toronto Maple Leafs by one point in the goaltender's Vezina Trophy race, fell another point behind.

Sawchuk has only one game left—against Canadiens in Detroit Sunday. Lumley has two to go before the regular 70-game schedule ends Sunday.

Stastics for the one period of play will go into the official record.

The league championship hinges on the game in Detroit Sunday. This one is Detroit's last but Canadiens play New York in Montreal Saturday night. Regardless of the outcome of the Saturday game, Montreal can still win the championship by defeating the Red Wings Sunday.

Stone Beaten In Edmonton Car 'Spiel

EDMONTON (CP)—Three Alberta rinks, all within one loss of being pushed out of the annual Edmonton car bonspiel, counted extra-end victories over previously undefeated quartettes Thursday night to stay alive in the double-knockout playoffs.

But the provincial titlist, Hugh Brown of Claresholm, was sidelined after a 10-7 loss to Gord Thompson of Prince Albert. It was Brown's second loss, and Thompson needed the win to stay in the running.

The last-straw winners were Matt Baldwin, last year's car winner, who defeated Harold Horeak of Regina 8-7; R. A. Baker of Blackie, with an 8-6 decision over British Columbia champion Reg Stone of Trail, and Bill Allan of Olds, who edged Gord Taylor of Rivers, Man., 9-8.

Moore Scheduled For Vancouver April 1

Montreal Riot Termed Disgrace

Hockey Fans Scored For Violent Demonstration

(From CP and BUP Dispatches)

Prominent hockey figures and newspapers were quick to heap scorn on Montreal fans today for the Thursday riot at Montreal Forum in the NHL contest between the Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings. The game was forfeited to Detroit, 4-1, when the riot broke out at the end of the first period.

Central figure in the demonstration was NHL President Clarence Campbell, who Wednesday suspended Montreal star Maurice Richard for the balance of the season for his part in a brawl in Boston Sunday night. Richard punched linesman Jim Thomson after engaging in a stick-swinging duel with Hal Laycoe of the Bruins.

The Montreal Gazette described the riot at the Forum as "a disgraceful spectacle" which should never be permitted to happen again.

"Whatever disagreement may have been felt with the decision made by the president of the National Hockey League, it was carrying action beyond all decency to break up the game at the Forum, to assault the president of the league, to toss gas bombs on the ice, to smash store windows, and show all signs of bad feeling run riot," the newspaper said in an editorial.

"A great majority of Montrealers will regard the happenings . . . with disgust. This is the sort of thing that could bring a heavy and depressing bitterness to professional hockey that would cling to the name of this city, long after the smell of last night's gas bombs has been cleared out of the Forum itself."

U.S. Papers Headline Event

The New York Times and the New York Herald Tribune carried front page stories on the hockey riot in Montreal while the tabloid Daily News and Daily Mirror, with headlines on their back pages, played up the story on their sports pages.

"Hockey fans riot in Montreal: league head attacked at game" said the Times headline over the story while the Tribune said, "Montreal has a riot over banishing of its hockey idol."

The Daily News headline proclaimed, "Montreal fans riot, assault NHL prexy." The Mirror bannered, "rioting fans attack NHL prexy."

"It's unbelievable. I've never heard anything like it."

The "unbelievable" comment came from Lynn Patrick, Bruins general manger. Walter Brown, president of the club, had no comment at all, and Milt Schmidt, Bruins coach, said only: "My tongue is tied."

"It's a shame a man like Clarence Campbell has to take abuse of that kind," Smythe said. "It's terrible."

Jack Adams, general manager of the Detroit Red Wings, said early today that "in my 38 years of hockey I've never seen anything so disgraceful"

"Nowhere but in Montreal could there be such a demonstration as this against the league president," he added as he and his club boarded a train for home.

Adams said Montreal officials were responsible for the disturbance.

"If they hadn't pampered Maurice Richard, built him up as a hero until he felt he was bigger than hockey itself, this wouldn't have happened."

Adams said he long had advocated moving NHL headquarters to an American city, "and this proves it should be done."

Elmer Ferguson, Montreal Herald, termed the riot "a disgraceful incident in the history of Montreal sport."

Said Ferguson:

"You may not agree with his judgment, but you can't but admire the superb courage of Clarence Campbell.

"Here was a man caught between two extremes. If he avoided the game, he would be listed as a coward by his detractors. If he went, he was inciting a riot. So he went. On physical injury, he took his chances, came through like a gentleman, whom you couldn't help but admire."

Lester Patrick, dean of Canadian hockey, said Thursday night the outburst of mob frenzy at Montreal Forum was unprecented in Canadian sport.

"Never in my long hockey career has a thing like this happened," said the former coach and owner of New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

City To Host Royals

League-leaders by virtue of a victory last Saturday and weather conditions that washed out the rest of the schedule, Victoria City will be out to stay on top Saturday when they take on New Westminster Royals at Athletic Park at 2.

City opened the second-half of the Coast Soccer League schedule with a 3-2 conquest of Vancouver City here last Saturday, the rest of the league remaining idle because of wet fields.

One big stumbling block in the way of Victoria could be Peter Demuynick, Royals' sensational 17-year-old goalie, a Dutch immigrant.

Royals will have a number of proven veterans in strip Saturday, including fullbacks Buster Cairns and Alan Sawyer, Les Hibbert, Ivan Carr, Bill Hislop and Lex Henderson.

Three Cage Contests At Brentwood Tonight

Brentwood will be the host team for three suburban basketball games tonight at the Brentwood Community Hall.

The opener matches Brentwood and Sooke midget girls, while Brentwood and Ace Plumbers junior boys meet in the second game. Feature game is between Brentwood senior C men and Copley Brothers.

PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Oxford-Cambridge Ruggers Show Class

The combined Oxford-Cambridge touring rugby team, which will be here Saturday afternoon, used the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds as an appetizer Thursday in tucking in the napkin to start a 12-game Canadian and American tour.

The powerful English side completely overwhelmed the UBC team in hanging up a lopsided 29-6 victory.

Oxford-Cambridge takes on Doug Bray's Victoria Crimson Tide team Saturday at Macdonald Park at 2.30. After this game they go back to the mainland for four games and then to California for a series of six matches.

A crowd of about 2,500 ignored threatening skies in Vancouver Thursday, had a brief moment of hope as UBC took an early lead but then sat back and watched with awe as the touring side gave a remarkable demonstration of power and finesse.

Dave Morley opened scoring for UBC with a try at 15 minutes. Five minutes before, Robin Plumbridge crossed the line for what appeared to be an Oxford-Cambridge try, but it was disallowed.

Bill Lawrence touched down for Oxford-Cambridge at 25 minutes and Peter Davies converted. Davies booted a penalty goal at 35 minutes to make the half-time score 8-3 for the visitors.

The superior English team opened out in the second half. John Baggaley went over at seven minutes and Davies converted. At 22 minutes John Herbert scored an unconverted try. Two minutes later Plumbridge touched down and Dennis Robinson converted.

With 30 minutes gone, Bob Morford picked up the B.C. side's other three points with a penalty goal. Four minutes later Davies dropped an Oxford-Cambridge goal for the final score.

LADIES' BONSPIEL OPENS HERE TODAY

The third annual city ladies' bonspiel got under way this afternoon at the Victoria Curling Club. Four draws, with two in each primary event were set for today's competition.

The bonspiel has drawn a total of 33 rinks. Victoria has the greater number of entries with 21, Vancouver is represented with nine.

The two afternoon draws, the first of which started at 3, will be for the Eaton's Trophy, while the evening draws will be contested for the Home Furniture Trophy. Secondary events start Saturday and finals in all events are slated for Sunday.

Junior Shuttle Meet Opens Here Tonight

Victoria and District Junior Badminton championship play opens at the Amphion Street Hall tonight at 7. A record total of 88 entries have been received in the competition.

Championship singles and doubles will be contested by both boys and girls in the under-14, under-16 and under-18 age divisions, while the mixed doubles competition will be for the under-16 and under-18 age groups.

Players are requested to be ready to play 10 minutes before time of their scheduled match.

Draw follows:

7.00—W. Cox vs. M. Goodspeed; W. Hocking vs. P. Pearman; P. Wardell vs. B. McAlpine; D. Fidler vs. R. Sellwood; L. McMaster vs. J. Andrews.

7.30—R. Schmelz vs. B. Whitehead; P. Kissinger vs. R. Caddell; A. Budynski vs. R. Watt; R. Callaghan vs. K. Street; V. Lindel vs. M. Chapman.

Chieftains Still Carry Island's Cage Hopes

Alberni High School Chieftains still are carrying the basketball mail for Vancouver Island in the annual B.C. High School Basketball Tournament in Vancouver.

With both city teams out of the championship running, Alberni remained in contention for the tournament title by thumping Gladstone 41-30 Thursday, to gain the semi-finals of the 16-team tournament.

Victoria High School, which fell into the consolation round by losing its first game of the tournament, did an about-face Thursday with a clean-cut 55-35 victory over third-seeded Vancouver College.

Esquimalt, which also fell by the wayside as a result of a first-round loss, bounced right back to defeat Cranbrook, 43-35.

SEMIS TONIGHT

Alberni will be sighting on the tournament finals tonight when they take on West Vancouver in one of the semifinal matches.

Irvin Apologizes To Penticton V's

PENTICTON, B.C. (BUP) — Dick Irvin, the coach of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, has apologized for doubting the ability of the Penticton V's.

Irvin, who before the world amateur hockey tournament had said the V's should be replaced by N.H.L. players, sent a telegram to the club on the champions' return home.

It said, "Sorry cannot be with you, don't know how long I will be able to hang on down here. Still trying day and night to explain things to eastern papers."

Palica to Orioles

VEDO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Dodgers today sold Erv Palica, 27-year-old righthander, to Baltimore for an undisclosed sum of cash and first baseman Frank Kellert. The latter will play for Brooklyn's St. Paul farm club.

LOS ANGELES—Charley Green, 163, Los Angeles, stopped Zeke Robinson, 167¾, San Francisco (2).

Gutoski Captures Curling Club Title

Having the advantages of last rock in the 12th end skip Tony Gutoski drew to the button to capture the Victoria Curling Club championship and the Bill Hyde Trophy Wednesday night at the city club.

In a hard-fought battle all the way losing skip Bill McDougall kept things tight until the final shot.

Teen-agers Gary Leibel, Dale Dalziel and Lyle Garraway were the other members on Gutoski's rink. Frank Peturrson skipped the winning rink last year.

Skip Clare Anderson (Fletchers) edged Harry Croll in the secondary event, for the 32 rinks which failed to qualify for championship competition.

Skip Walter Knight, who was vacationing in Honolulu, was unable to share the glory of his winning rink which won the consolation event for first-round losers in both the championship and secondary events. Padre Roberts was the losing skip.

OAK BAY CAGERS IN SIXTH VICTORY

Oak Bay senior girls defeated Victoria High, 29-20, to stretch their undefeated streak to six straight victories in inter-high school basketball at the Oak Bay Junior High gym Wednesday night.

Donna Burridge topped the winners with 11 points, while B. Mitchell led the losers with nine. Oak Bay held a 17-10 halftime margin.

The Bays will play Mount View Friday at Oak Bay Junior High School. Another victory would give Oak Bay the championship since Mount View has lost one contest this year.

Grid Pact Off—Bell; Canadians Unworried

MONTREAL (BUP) — Canadian football leaders expressed little surprise today at National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell's decision to break off peace attempts.

Vic Obeck, general manager of the Montreal Alouettes, said he couldn't "find fault" with Bell's decision.

"Naturally you can't expect him to condone the actions of some teams who continued to sign NFL players in the face of peace talks," Obeck said.

The Montreal official said it was too late this year to work out a peace pact but "I definitely think it will come next year."

In Regina, Dr. Beattie Martin, president of the Saskatchewan Roughriders, said Bell's statement would not affect the Western League to any great extent.

"However I am very sorry to see the negotiations broken off with Canadian football teams."

G. Sydney Halter, Western league commissioner, said in Winnipeg that it had been plain for several weeks no agreement would be reached this year with U.S. football interests.

He said three Western teams were making individual agreements with American teams "and this will be satisfactory for the time being."

Al Anderson, manager of the Edmonton Eskimos, said his club had signed six no-raiding agreements with U.S. teams and was trying to conclude pacts with several more.

Flanagan Stops Bratton

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Del Flanagan of St. Paul Thursday night threw a roadblock onto the comeback trial of welterweight Johnny Bratton with a ninth-round technical knockout of the Chicago battler.

Barnum, Higgins Share Golf Lead at St. Pete

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Shooting deadly iron games, big John Barnum and lanky Doug Higgins fired seven-under-par 65s Thursday to set a blistering first-round pace in the $12,500 St. Petersburg Open golf tournament.

The husky Barnum, an old-timer on the tournament trail who plays out of Grand Rapids, Mich., blasted his approach shots so close to the pins he needed only 28 putts for the round.

Higgins, a youthful newcomer from Midland, Tex., was equally accurate. He had only 29 putts as he joined Barnum in leading a field of 149 players in a spectacular assault on par.

In all, 60 bested par of 72 for the 6,574-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif.; Jay Hebert of Woodmere, N.Y., and Harold Williams of Tuscaloosa, Ala., wound up in a second-place deadlock with 66s.

Eilers Disappointment In Pan-American Games

MEXICO CITY (CP) — Canada's biggest disappointment in the Pan-American Games so far has been its champion women's basketball team.

Invincible for years in play-offs at home, Vancouver Eilers have been complete flops in the pan-American basketball tournament.

Thursday night the Canadian girls were virtually eliminated from contention when they suffered their third straight defeat, a 58-41 drubbing by Mexico. Only a 17-point performance kept the Canadians in the game.

Tonight the Eilers meet the unbeaten United States quintet, which has averaged 15 points a game more than the Canadians and has allowed 10 fewer points a game to the opposition. The Americans are the only undefeated team left in the five-country tournament with three wins. Brazil and Chile are tied for second place with 2-1 records and Mexico has a 1-3 mark.

FACE ROUGH BATTLE

The Eilers have five games to play in the double round-robin tourney but from their showing they face a rough battle the rest of the way with little hope of catching the leaders.

In track and field Thursday, women did all the point-scoring for Canada. Gwen Hobbins of Toronto fell off her fine performance in qualifying Wednesday and placed fourth in the 80-metre low hurdle finals. Alice-Ann Whitty of Vancouver finished sixth in the high jump.

The 17-year-old Toronto girl garnered three points and Miss Whitty one point to give Canada a total of 14, all in track and field. In the unofficial standing Canada was 10th among 22 countries and territories.

As the games enter their sixth day, the United States had 345 points to 107½ for Argentina. Cuba moved into third place with 47 points and Brazil and Mexico were tied for fourth with 46½ points.

The U.S. squad captured five championships Thursday—three in track and field—to increase its gold medal bag to 23 of 31 championships.

The Americans won the women's high jump, men's 110-meter high hurdles and the hammer throw, and placed first in the men's individual foils and the 50-meter freestyle pistol shoot.

Only half of the Canadian team of 14 men and women has seen action in track and field. Today there will be a pair of new faces, Sharon Mary Cliffe of Mission City, B.C., and Marie Ann DePree of South Burnaby, B.C., in the women's javelin throw.

Hepburn Impressive In Wrestling Debut

TORONTO (CP)—Doug Hepburn of Vancouver, who claims to be the world's strongest man, made an impressive 2½-minute debut in professional wrestling Thursday night.

It took the 291-pound Hepburn, a noted weightlifter, only two minutes and 38 seconds to dispose of Frank Marconi in a preliminary bout at the weekly professional wrestling show. The crowd of 9,000 fans saw Marconi concede after Hepburn applied an upside-down bear hug.

Marconi couldn't cope with Hepburn's tremendous power. The Vancouver strongman broke Marconi's wrist locks, full nelsons and head locks with ridiculous ease.

Lead-Zinc Mine at Salmo To Be Reopened by CM & S

SALMO, B.C. (CP)—Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. plans to reopen its lead-zinc HB mine near Salmo this spring, Cominco officials have revealed.

The company will begin preparations in April for production later in the spring. Officials could not say when hiring of miners would begin.

After the Second World War, Cominco undertook an extensive diamond drilling program which developed a large tonnage of sulphide ore. This resulted in a $2,750,000 program in 1951 to prepare the mine for production. The program included a 4,000-foot tunnel to serve the sulphide ore body and a 1,000-ton concentrator. A total of 150 men were to have been employed when the mine began production.

The program was completed in March, 1953, but production was deferred owing to low metal prices at the time.

BELL ISSUE APPROVED

OTTAWA (BUP) — The Board of Transport Commissioners has given Bell Telephone Co. permission to issue up to 1,700,000 new shares of stock.

The company will be able to offer the stock at $37 a share to present shareholders at a ratio of not more than one new share for each seven shares held.

Saguenay Power Co. Ltd., preferred $1.06, payable July 1; record June 10; xd June 8.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices today showed an easier tone in fairly active trading on the grain exchange. New seasonal lows were registered in July and October oats and barley.

Fairly liberal offerings attributed to international and U.S. interests appeared in oats and barley. Barley also disclosed modest commercial demand.

Domestic shippers bought oats. Flax was quiet. Some shipping demand for rye was in evidence due to a parcel lot sale to Holland.

No information was available on overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat.

All wheat prices were unchanged.

State Control Fear Postpones Gas for Year

Suppliers Reject Federal Financing

OTTAWA (BUP)—Planners of the Trans Canada Gas Pipeline, faced with a collapse of efforts to start construction of an East-West gas line this year, will apply for one-year time extensions on their pipeline and gas export permits.

The firm's pipeline permit from the Board of Transport Commissioners and a gas export permit from the province of Alberta are due to expire soon.

Western gas producers have refused to approve Industrial Development Bank terms for financing the 2,250-mile line to bring Alberta natural gas to Ontario and Quebec.

It was reported the proposed deal with the Development Bank would have given the federal government the right to take ownership of a majority of the voting stock, whenever it pleased. Officials here said Gulf Oil Company, which would have supplied the largest share of the pipeline's gas, refused to contract with a firm under government control.

The refusal was understood to hinge on fears that such a deal would lead to government fixing of the well-head price for the gas.

Aruba May Tranship Jet Fuel Cargo at Sea

HELSINKI (UP) — The captain of the Finnish tanker Aruba refused today to put into Ceylon as demanded by his rebellious crew and prepared if necessary to transship his jet fuel cargo at a rendezvous in the open sea.

It was not known whether the transshipment would be attempted in an effort to get the cargo to Communist China to which the kerosene was originally consigned, or whether the cargo was open for dickering.

The United States bought the China-bound fuel cargo of the Finnish tanker Wiima off Singapore two years ago and took it aboard a U.S. Navy tanker in the open sea to end an earlier "Aruba incident."

CLUB PLANS MASS FLIGHT FOR VACATION IN BRITAIN

TORONTO (BUP)—Employees of Canada's biggest aircraft firm planned today to charter four British planes for a mass vacation flight to Britain this summer.

Jim Davidge, a spokesman for the Recreataion Club of Avro Aircraft Ltd., at nearby Malton, Ont., said more than 260 employees and their dependents would pay about $350 each for the return trips aboard British Overseas Airways Corp. planes. First-class return flights across the Atlantic normally cost about $700.

VANCOUVER (CP)—"A most sensitive piece of work" was the accolade given Thursday night by adjudicator Andre Van Gysegham to the Vagabond Players for their presentation of "Flight Into Egypt," third entry in the British Columbia regions of the Dominion Drama Festival.

The adjudicator said the handling of the George Tabori drama was "an example of really careful work."

TOOK LEADING ROLES

Verlie and Frank Cooter in the leading roles of the immigrant couple seeking an escape from their troubled world "contributed a lot to the play."

School Budget Minor Changes Anticipated

Data Incomplete For Second Time

Slight changes in the school board budget, announced Tuesday, have been forecast by district municipal officials.

Assessment figures used by the board in arriving at the basis of cost-sharing among member municipalities have still to be confirmed, it was learned today.

It was the second school board budget to be released in the last month in which basic information was not complete.

The first budget showed the expenditures but used the 1954 system of figuring revenues, as the new school formula had not yet been approved by the Legislature.

Many councils, including Esquimalt and Oak Bay, rejected the first budget outright.

BEFORE APRIL 15

The new budget may be amended before April 15, by which time municipal assessment figures are expected to be confirmed.

It is not considered likely that any important changes will be made.

Municipal heads have been cautious in guessing how the school budget will affect the tax rate.

Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele said the $12,000 less provincial aid revealed by the budget would likely mean a tax increase. Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich, heavy loser under the new plan, has not said whether the $158,000 loss to Saanich will be recovered by tax increases.

Oak Bay and Victoria gain by the new deal.

Hospital Workers Win $5 Monthly Wage Increases

A $5 a month wage increase plus provision for overtime after 40 hours a week has been granted Royal Jubilee Hospital Employees' Association, conciliation officer W. T. McLaughlin reported today.

Wage adjustments were granted in these classifications: gardeners, female elevator operators, laundry foremen, orderlies, operating room orderlies, trained aides, pharmacy storekeepers, assistant pharmacists, cleaners and janitors.

Aldermen, Planners Want Quick Okay On Zoning By-Law

City council met with Victoria Town Planning Commission Thursday to discuss adjustments to the Victoria Zoning By- law, 1955, and opinion was almost unaminous in favor of early passage.

Town planning commission has been compiling amendments and preparing the new by-law since 1953.

Council will be provided with a list of all changes of the new by-law for study prior to adoption of the new regulations.

(BB PLUS) "THE VIOLENT MEN" (Capitol): There are plenty of men in this colorful CinemaScopic western and they are all violent.

Unfortunately, the Columbia film should have been in the "near-epic" class, but ends up by being merely another slightly better-than-average motion picture about a range war.

What breaks down the "epic" quality of "The Violent Men" isn't anything big. Rather it is a number of small things that add up into something big.

First of these small things is Glenn Ford.

★ ★ ★

ANYONE WHO SAW FORD in possibly one of the best crime pictures in the past five years, "The Big Heat," will recognize him as one of the outstanding actors on the screen today, albeit an actor who hasn't had too many breaks in securing good scripts. In "The Violent Men" his over-all excellence makes most of the rest of the cast appear gauche in contrast. He plays it as a good western should be played, soft and slow. Because of this the others seem to be shouting unwarrantly and overacting until, here and there, the spell is broken long enough for one to grow critical—which is too long.

★ ★ ★

BUT THE THING THAT irritates most in "The Violent Men" is the music. It is everywhere. It gallops with the horses, it accompanies the fighting men, it rushes to the rescue. It weeps with the heroine, it roars with the villain. It is an intruder in the home. It is the strumming piano in the old silent movie house. It is melodrama.

This has had to be said for a long time. Why, in this so-called age of realism, should there be music when music has no part of the plot? Surely the normal sounds of life, men walking, horses cantering, cars on the highway, wind in the city, wind in the country, lightning, thunder, laughter, weeping, are enough in themselves? How can we believe a picture that echoes to an unseen philharmonic in mid-Sahara or the Boston Pops on the mesa! A bar or two as a "bridge" for a panoramic scene or to indicate time elapse is conceivably excusable, even welcome. But the way it is today we are being subjected to about as much music in our dramas as we are in our musicals.

Come, Hollywood. Let's progress not regress.

THE PLOT IN BRIEF: Ford, a wounded Civil War veteran who came west for his health and intended to return east with his fiance, Mae Wynn, is caught up in a vicious range war precipitated by crippled cattle baron Edward G. Robinson. Peace-loving Ford at first keeps turning the other cheek to Robinson's hired gun-hands but, when he is driven to fight, turns into such a devastating adversary that the cattle baron's ranch world starts tumbling about his head. His wife (Barbara Stanwyck), for whom he covets the entire valley, proves faithless in that she is in love with his ruthless brother, Brian Keith, and his daughter (Dianne Foster) forsakes him for the nester's camp and Ford.

He is just one of the many men who helps to train and mould the keen, alert soldiers who form Canada's mobile striking force ... men who are making an outstanding contribution to furthering our way of life.

"Hit the Silk!"

A terse shout and paratroopers are off on their mission. Within minutes they are on the ground organized and ready for action.

The speed of modern airpower combined with the courage and training of Canada's paratroopers means added safety for us all. It means that we can rush troops to any part of the huge territory which is ours — ours to enjoy and project.

Behind this ability to move defence forces quickly and effectively is a long line of planning and organization. Men, machines, weapons ... a great live-wire team — men of the Infantry, Engineers, Service Corps, Medical Corps, Artillery, Signals and Ordnance Corps — dedicated to one aim, to protect Canada and our great heritage of freedom.

The Army continues to need good men — men to train as paratroopers and tradesmen. There is need for doctors, dentists, and all the other skills and professions of civilian life. In the Army they will find excellent careers with good pay, pensions, opportunities for advancement and, above all, a chance to play a part in protecting this country and our free way of life.

To be eligible you must be 17 to 40 years of age, skilled tradesmen to 45. When applying bring birth certificate or other proof of age.

Floating Plant Will Add Power To Island Area

Commission Building Substation For 2,000-Kilowatt Generator

A 2,000-kilowatt diesel-electric generating plant housed on a barge will be towed from the mainland Monday and hooked into the B.C. Power Commission's Vancouver Island system to help ease the threat of a brownout.

Through the co-operation of Mayo Lumber Company, the barge will be moored in Oyster Bay, just north of Ladysmith. Power commission crews are now erecting a temporary substation to feed the auxiliary diesel power into the 23,000-volt Island sub-transmission system.

The commission is renting the marine diesel-electric plant from B.C. Bridge & Dredging Company, Vancouver.

The move is another step in the commission's efforts to ease the load on the John Hart hydro plant at Campbell River where water storage is badly depleted due to insufficient natural runoff in recent weeks. Already in operation to save water at the 120,000-kilowatt John Hart station are auxiliary diesel units at the RCAF station at Comox and the Brentwood steam plant near Victoria.

Meanwhile, some extra water from Buttle Lake is now flowing down Campbell River as a result of the dredging of the lake outlet. Dredging is continuing to provide a total of 60,000 acre-feet of water—equal to a little more than a week's supply for the John Hart plant.

John Walser, project meteorologist for North American Weather Consultants, likely will have silver iodide generators set up at Ucluelet and Tofino on the west coast of Vancouver Island by the end of the week. They will be placed in operation as soon as suitable meteorological conditions occur to increase natural precipitation around Buttle Lake. Four other generators will be placed farther up the west coast.

While some immediate benefit is expected from the efforts to increase runoff at Campbell River by this method the long-range aim is to bring the snowpack on the central island mountains up to normal.

Snow in itself is storage. Since no additional storage dams can be completed by commission until the latter half of 1956 poor runoff conditions next winter can cause another brownout threat.

Square Dance Fete April 1 In Nanaimo

NANAIMO — Vancouver Island's biggest competitive festival for 'teen agers will be held Friday, April 1, in the Legion Hall.

The festival, sponsored by the Vancouver Island Teen Town Association, will provide an evening of fun for both 'teeners and adults, especially club dancers in the island area.

Competitions in junior and senior classes will be held from 7 to 9 p.m., with a big island-wide fun dance following until midnight. Top Vancouver Island callers will be featured.

Entries in the competitive section of the festival have already been indicated from Oak Bay Spares, Cowichan High School, Qualicum Beach Junior High School, Comox High School, and Chemainus.

TWO CLASSES

Two classifications open for competition are junior, 13 to 15 years, and senior, 16 to under 20.

Cowichan High School won the senior division in 1954, and Qualicum Beach Junior High the junior section.

Cups and individual ribbons will be awarded the winner in both classes and to the top caller.

Entry forms and further information on this island-wide "hoe-down" may be obtained from Earle Bowen, festival chairman, 436 Kennedy Street, Nanaimo.

Entries close 7 p.m. on the night of the competitions.

Oldsters Will Stage Classic Hoop Match

Minor Leagues Will Benefit

CHEMAINUS—Chemainus and Ladysmith "old-timers" will meet in what should prove to be a basketball classic this week-end, in a game designed to raise funds to sponsor the minor leagues of the game.

Line-ups of both teams will contain a number of former hoop stars who were active in the district before and during the war. None of them are playing at the present time.

Chemainus line-up reads as follows: Gerry Smith, Danny Wyllie, Wally Laidlaw, Charlie Strouldger, Cec Clarke, Joe Copp, Zip Jackson and Eddie Weir. Ladysmith will floor Arnie Hill, Dodie Zizac, "Two-bit" Battie, Jack Battie, Mush Simpson, Tom Davidson, John Smith and "Scout" Strang.

The old-timers will play strictly old-time rules and 10-minute quarters. Ladysmith have been installed as pre-game favorites as they have reportedly held a workout. A return game, providing the players survive Sunday's contest, will be held in Ladysmith March 25.

Kin Donate $235

CHEMAINUS—A cheque in the amount of $235.44 has been turned over to hospital administrator G. C. Saunders by the Chemainus Kinsmen Club, to cover two-thirds of the cost price of a new fracture bed for the hospital.

Remaining amount will be contributed by the provincial government.

Raising of the money for the new fracture bed completes the club's latest community service project.

In a letter to the club the administrator expressed the "keen appreciation of the hospital staff and board." The new bed will prove a valuable aid to doctors and nurses, he wrote.

Mill Bay Church Women Conduct Special Service

MILL BAY—Women of Mill Bay United Church conducted a Women's World Day of Prayer service in the church before a near-capacity congregation.

Mrs. L. Keir and Mrs. E. Miskamin, Mill Bay, sang a duet, and Mrs. R. Calderwood of Cobble Hill was organist.

Presidents of other auxiliaries who attended the service were Mrs. R. Marshall, Shawnigan Lake United Church; Mrs. G. Hamilton, Shawnigan Anglican Church; and Mrs. J. W. Askham, Cobble Hill Anglican Church.

City Offers $38,520 For Indian Property

DUNCAN—The sum of $38,520 will be offered Cowichan Indian Band for 47.1 acres of Indian Reserve land as a Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation building site.

The offer will be made by the city on behalf of the federal and provincial governments. The city's action was decided at a special meeting Thursday on receipt of instructions from J. E. Brown, deputy minister of municipal affairs.

A marked lack of housing accomodation here gave rise to the transaction, since the city covers only 500 acres and almost all available building lots are taken up.

Property in question is on Hospital Hill, northwest of the city.

The offer will be made to the Indian band by Jeffrey V. Boys, Indian agent, and is based on an appraisal made a year ago by N. J. Prest of a local real estate firm.

Owner of the land is Charlie Williams, but he does not have absolute title. He may dispose of it to another member of the band, but if he wishes to sell to an outsider he must have the permission of the whole band.

"I would suggest that you do not attempt to bargain, but make the best offer," Mr. Boys advised a joint meeting of the city council and representatives of the band, led by Chief Stan Modeste. "I do not think you will get the Indians to go back to the band a second time."

Bert Beggs Heads Chemainus Rotary

CHEMAINUS — H. "Bert" Beggs is the new president of the Chemainus Rotary Club, succeeding G. C. Saunders.

Other officers elected at the annual meeting were Harry Ewart, vice-president; Martin van Cooten, secretary; A. J. Bird, treasurer. Directors are Jack Dowling, Fred Holgate and Jack Jameson. Incoming officers will be installed in July.

School Board Hires New Superintendent

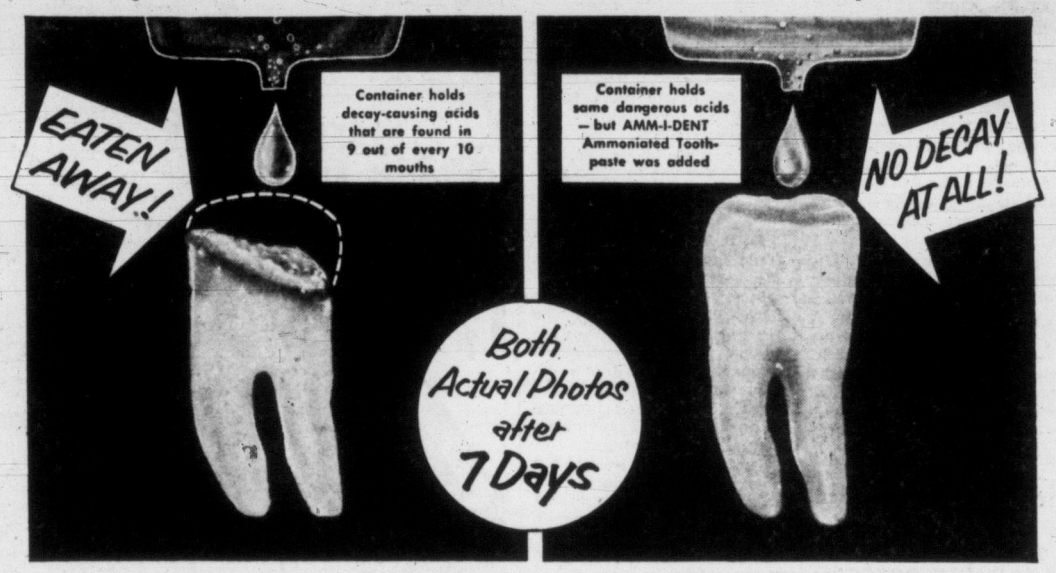
New Scientific Test shows for the FIRST time...
HOW TOOTH DECAY OCCURS! HOW IT MAY BE PREVENTED!
by Amm-i-dent Ammoniated Toothpaste



New, improved Amm-i-dent Toothpaste has this decay-fighting action because of its exclusive ammoniated formula
PROTECTS YOUR TEETH from DECAY, BETTER and LONGER than any other toothpaste

WE GUARANTEE IT...OR MONEY BACK!*

Yes, here is a revolutionary toothpaste. Amm-i-dent's time-proved ammoniated formula (U.S. Patent No. 2,588,324) is backed by hundreds of clinical records on prevention of tooth decay. The most effective decay-fighting formula known is yours just by asking for "Amm-i-dent Toothpaste".

Every brushing with this new Amm-i-dent is guaranteed to prevent decay better . . . and to protect your teeth longer.

How Test Was Conducted

Container on left was filled with acid present in 9 out of 10 mouths . . . acid released when food particles ferment between the teeth. When this acid attacks tooth enamel, it can cause decay.

In container on the right, new Amm-i-dent was added to the same decay acid. Photos show what happened (in speeded-up test) when both solutions dripped on teeth.

After just 7 days, the unprotected tooth was greatly eaten away! But the tooth protected by Amm-i-dent showed no decay at all!

The use of Amm-i-dent can prevent decay . . . because improved Amm-i-dent literally destroys the decay acid before damage is done!

City Hockey Stalwarts Frown on Montreal Fans' Performance

By BILL WALKER, Times Sports Editor

Victoria hockey fans generally expressed disgust today over the riot instigated by Montreal fans at Thursday night's hockey game in Montreal between the Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings.

However, some felt that all Montreal fans shouldn't be condemned for the actions of a few "fanatics."

Most agreed that Richard's suspension, which led to the violent outbreak at the Montreal Forum, resulting in the game being called and forfeited to Detroit, was justified and that NHL president Clarence Campbell should be commended for his decision.

Comments follow:

Niel Damgaard (clothing salesman): "It's terrible, awful. I don't think fans should ever go that deeply for it. They were completely out of control. The riot wasn't Richard's fault, but I think he should be banned for life. It's awful; that's all."

Roy Okell (civil servant): "I'm a great Canadiens' supporter and I think it's a poor reaction by the fans virtually to take money out of the players' pockets. I don't think now the Canadiens will win the Prince of Wales Trophy (league championship) and that will cost the team at least $500 apiece. Richard is such a great idol, perhaps he should speak for the public. It proves Campbell was right. Possibly he should have made a stronger decision against Richard. And I blame Dick Irvin (Montreal coach) for not having his players restrain Richard."

Ted Barnes (dental technician): 'It's absolutely disgusting; the most stupid thing I ever heard of. I agree with Campbell 100 per cent on his suspension of Richard. He got what he deserves. Officials must be protected."

Cliff Nash (furniture salesman): I played there so I know. I think it's typical of the Montreal crowd . . . when skating down the boards I used to keep one eye on the puck and another on the guy on the rail. As for Richard, he got away with it too long. He's a tin god and should have been suspended long ago."

Billy Reay (coach of Victoria Cougars)—"You certainly don't want to judge all Montreal fans by a few fanatics. I think they're wonderful fans in Montreal—the majority of them. I feel sorry for the management of the Forum and members of the club. Certainly there was little the Forum management could do about it. And they won't be very proud of what happened. This could cost the Canadiens $500 a man."

Wally Dunham (city merchant)—As far as the worst part of the riot was concerned, I don't think that can be blamed entirely on the hockey fans. What started out as a protest by the fans in the Forum was taken over by a bunch of hoodlums who were going to take their anger out on anyone they came across. That would account for the vandalism. However, I do not think it was very tactful of Mr. Campbell to appear at last night's game. It would have been better if he had stayed away."

Ollie Corbett (engraving executive)—"Fans who would behave like that don't deserve to have a team. They should take the team right out of Montreal and put it in Milwaukee."

Phil Taylor (Victoria Golf Club professional)— "I think it's disgraceful, absolutely disgraceful."

Harold Husband (industrial business executive)—"I think generally there had to be some discipline to Richard, and that the NHL president was justified in his decision. But I don't think the fans were justified in their reaction to the decision. They should have accepted it for the good of the game."

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

I trust you paid strict attention to the fashion supplement which came with your copy of The Times yesterday.

Among other things, the fashion supplement warned:

"The long, lithe look has emerged as one of two important silhouettes this spring. Tall, lissome, elegantly streamlined, it shapes the feminine figure to a new purity of line, stripped completely of frills and fussy details.

"It is ultra-modern. Nothing could be slimmer, nothing simpler . . . even accessories now have a long, lean look."

As usual, there is no point in arguing with the dictates of fashion. But I would like to lodge a word or two of protest against what fashion proposes to do to women.

I, for one, do not want women stripped completely of frills and fussy details.

One of the entrancing things about women is the way they carry around frills and fussy details. Show me a woman without a fussy detail, and I will show you an unhappy woman.

Also, I do not want streamlined women around me. Streamlining is all right for trains, planes, cars and even boats. But streamlining isn't all right for women.

Women were never designed to be streamlined, and, in fact, it is their non-streamlining which most appeals to men.

I would like also to protest against the idea of the long, lean look, or even the long, lithe look.

There is something sinister in the thought of long, lean women, lounging lithely about.

They may be all right on the pages of Vogue or Harper's Bazaar, but keep 'em out of my sight, please.

If I were compelled to choose between a long, lean woman and a short, round woman, I wouldn't hesitate for a moment.

Also, long, lean women are bound to be snarly. The only way women can become long and lean is to diet, and dieting does nothing to improve the disposition.

So please, fashion, say it isn't so—say you didn't mean all women must be streamlined, stripped of frills, and long and lean.

Leave a few of the normal type for us guys to whistle at.

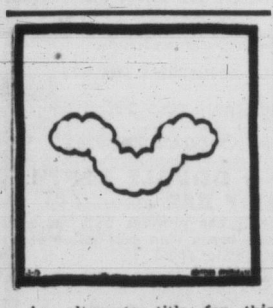
DROODLES



An alternate title for this Droodle (thought up by Millie Starr of Manhattan) might be: "A Fur Jacket for an Eskimo Kayak." Then again if you turn it upside down it becomes: "George Washington's Wig Seen on Cinemascope." If you're artistic you can shade the drawing with your pencil and call it "A Piece of Second-hand Licorice," and if you really want to go all out, color it with nail polish or lipstick and call it: "Fireman's Suspenders Seen Through Burnt Hole in Shirt." If you're confused by all these titles I suggest you put them all in a hat and pick one out. I tried this and came up with a very novel title: "Six and Seven-Eighths."

"CLOUD THAT A CHUBBY ANGEL SAT ON."

Policeman Blamed in Car Crash

Accused Driver Freed by Court

A city police officer was blamed for a car accident Feb. 27 when Magistrate Henry C. Hall in Saanich court Thursday dismissed a charge of impaired driving against the driver of a second car involved.

In dismissing the charge against William B. Stevenson, 2331 Victor, the magistrate said it would appear the other driver in the accident, Constable Kenneth Wainwright, "was the person at fault and there is some evidence he was intoxicated."

The accident occurred in the early morning of Feb. 27, on Douglas Street, near Dupplin.

Raymond Lowres, 1705 Cook, testified he was driving south on Douglas when he saw the Stevenson car enter the roadway from Cloverdale.

CROSSED LINE

He said the accident came when the Wainwright car, traveling north on Douglas, crossed the centre line.

Mr. Lowres testified Stevenson was "definitely sober" when he spoke to him after the crash.

He did not remain at the scene but took four persons injured in the collision to hospital.

Earlier in the trial, Wainwright testified he had about 12 drinks at a party prior to the accident, but he did not think his ability to drive had been affected.

At the conclusion of Mr. Lowres' testimony, prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie suggested dismissal.

"The prosecution is not in a position to produce the preponderance of evidence necessary to establish a conviction," he said.

Pioneer Victorian, Mrs. Mary Jeeves Dies at Rest Haven

Funeral services will be held Saturday for Mrs. Mary Jane Jeeves, life-long resident of Victoria and district, who died Thursday night at Rest Haven Hospital, Sidney.

She was in her 70th year.

She was an active member of the Esquimalt Corp of the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Jeeves was born at Shawnigan Lake. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Manhattan Woodruff, were pioneer settlers.

Besides her husband, Frederick E. H. Jeeves, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Herb Doherty; three grandchildren; one brother, James Woodruff, of Sooke, and two sisters, Mrs. Violet Dixon, of Eberts, and Mrs. William Thompson, of Victoria.

Major George Crewe, of the Salvation Army, will conduct the funeral service at 2 p.m. at McCall Bros.' Chapel. Interment will be at Colwood Burial Park.

HIGHEST MARKS in piano classes adjudicated by L. Shepherd-Munn during Thursday's sessions of the Greater Victoria Music Festival, were obtained by Maureen Carey in the class for 14-year-olds and under. Maureen is the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Davis M. Carey, 2016 Romney Road. She is a student at Oak Bay Junior High School and a pupil of Miss Marjorie Tebo's Studio. She really enjoys the festival, in which she has been a candidate almost every year, winning a bursary in a sight-reading class at an early age and having been a winner in a solo class and junior champion finalist in last year's festival.

Festival Features Youngsters in Song

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

While a final decision had not been reached at press time, several school choirs had already been recommended by adjudicator Glyndwr Jones for the special school choir concert tonight at Metropolitan Church.

This will be the wind-up of two days of elementary school choral sessions. Cloverdale-Quadra Schools' 21-piece orchestra, lead by Miss Kay Horner, will perform at about 9 p.m. This orchestra is entered in the forthcoming Vancouver Music Festival.

See also Page 6 for Music Festival results

It is definitely known that George Jay School Glee Club, who this morning delighted Mr. Jones with the musicianly quality of their singing and the beautiful handling of their descant of "Lillibulero," will be on the program tonight.

Others who particularly impressed the adjudicator today and may be included on tonight's program, were Oak Bay Junior High School and St. Ann's Academy, Grade 5. In any event the evening concert promises to be a delightful affair, with some excellent singing heightened by the youthful charm of the young choristers.

Violin classes which were held this morning at St. John's Hall, L. Shepherd-Munn, adjudicating, were gravely disappointing, not in quality of performance but in poverty of numbers entered. Is this city, in spite of its fine symphony orchestra, utterly disinterested in violin-playing?

Either that, or else the violin teachers are not coming out in support of the festival, as are the singing and piano teachers and the valiant school teachers.

MUCH PROMISE

With one entry in each of five classes, and two canceled, Mr. Shepherd-Munn's work was lamentably light. However he found considerable promise and achievement in the playing of the two candidates who appeared, Margaret Carl and Lynne Hammond. The former gained a mark of 85 for sight reading, 16 years and under, and 85 in her intermediate solo class for the same age group.

Lynne Hammond, playing two difficult test pieces, received a mark of 80 in the class for junior solo, 10 years and under. School choir results were as follows: Folk song, up to and including Grade 6: St. Ann's Academy, Grade 5, 85; St. Ann's Academy, Grade 6, 83; South Park School, 80. Elementary Schools' Composite Choir, up to and including Grade 8, Lampson Street School, 164; folk song, up to and including Grade 8; Oak Bay Junior High School, 87.

Private School Choirs, 20 voices and under; St. Margaret's School, 166; University School Junior Choir, 164. Rural and Small Schools; Gordon Head School, 168. Elementary Schools' Composite Choir, up and including Grade 6; George Jay Glee Club, 171; Doncaster School, 170; South Park School, 169.

Of the latter class, Mr. Jones remarked that it had really given him a hard time in coming to a decision. There had been some lovely singing, good rhythmic sense and tone demonstrated by all three entrants he stated.

Army Recruiting Films To Be Shown Students

Films on army officer training will be shown in five Victoria High Schools this month, army officials announced today.

School board officials said attendance at the films will be voluntary.

On Feb. 21, Greater Victoria school trustees rejected an army request for lists of names of grade 12 students who might be interested in choosing the army as a career. The board felt any student interested should seek out information himself.

The army had approached 167 B.C. high schools and 37 private schools. About 75, including Sidney High School, had complied with the lists.

The Greater Victoria board said it would place army education plan brochures in the hands of graduating class counsellors.

The films will be shown between March 28 and April 2. They are aimed at giving young men an idea of career opportunities and financially-assisted education facilities available to applicants who can meet regular army standards.

One screening, "Tomorrow's Officers," shows training of officer cadets at Royal Roads and Kingston Royal Military College. The second film, planned for Saturday morning, April 2, to be shown at a location not yet agreed upon, is "The Way to a Fine Future."

This film shows highlights of the army soldier apprentice program. Both films have been produced by the National Film Board.

NEWEST MINISTER ATTENDS FIRST CABINET MEETING

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant attended his first cabinet meeting this morning. He was sworn into office Tuesday.

He entered the cabinet chamber flanked by Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan and Labor Minister Lyle Wicks.

Mr. Chant, who has jurisdiction over all provincial buildings, has located a temporary office in the Douglas Building. Later, a permanent office will be set up near that of Highways Minister Gaglardi.

Strait Swim Try Set for March 30

Janice White Trains on Raw Beef; Music Accompaniment to Aid Stroke

Raw beef-eating Janice White, 18-year-old Torontonian, will plunge into Juan de Fuca Strait at 3 a.m. March 30 in an effort to swim 18 miles to Port Angeles.

She picked this date because tide tables show the least deviation of the year in turbulent Strait currents.

It will take her 15 hours to make the swim, she thinks, with energy coming from raw steak (which she eats in training), five pounds of corn syrup, one pound of honey, one pound of sugar, oranges, candy bars, coffee and water.

To help her stroke she wants a nearby rowboat playing popular music as she swims.

Her announcement came on Thursday, and this morning wrestler-built Tacoma logger Bert Thomas said he would try the swim within the next six weeks.

Date of Thomas' swim has been set since last fall, he said, but has been kept secret because "I don't want to make a race out of this; I want to get across."

Captain Hugh Evans, navigator for Thomas, predicted the 270-pound swimmer's first night-time practice next week. Since his arrival here eight days ago, he has been making swims up to three hours long in Esquimalt Lagoon.

TRAINER HAS LOOK

His trainer, Maurie Humes, also from Tacoma, was here briefly Thursday for one workout with Thomas, and will return weekly until the final week before the swim is made, when he will remain in Victoria up to the swim.

Thomas will begin making practice dips farther out in the Strait from now on, he said, having been offered the use of a boat by H. J. Sims of Sims Auto Supply.

BEEF-EATER JANICE

Miss White plans to make her attempt from a point along the Dallas Road waterfront, gaining the advantage of tides to swim southeast, then southwest to take her into Ediz Hook off Port Angeles.

She will not make her exact route known until 24 hours prior to the swim attempt.

TIDE WORRIES

Her only worries are that tides may be too great a handicap or 45-degree water will cause cramps. To forestall the latter she will make up her own grease compound and smear 18 pounds of it over her before setting out.

LONG TRAINING

Ex-U.S. Marine Corps drill sergeant Thomas decided last summer, following the Florence Chadwick attempt to cross Juan de Fuca Strait, he would like to do it himself and has been in training in Puget Sound waters since then.

Local practices have already meant a four-pound loss to his massive 275-pound frame, and he wants to get down to a trim 255 by the swim date.

"Everything is fine so far," Captain Evans said. He is an Island Tug & Barge skipper and says other captains at Island Tug are enthusiastic over forthcoming attempts on the strait.

Oak Bay Choir In Sunday Recital

There will be a repeat performance of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "St. Paul," by the Oak Bay United Church Choir on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the church auditorium.

Vera Barclay will conduct the choir, and James Saunders will be at the organ.

The guest soloists are Margaret Christison, Marion Mitchell, Dudley Wickett and Dr. Harry Johns. A collection will be taken.

Big Sea Cadet Rendezvous Under Consideration Here

Plans for a nation-wide Sea Cadet rendezvous this summer, to mark the diamond jubilee of the Navy League of Canada, are being discussed today by delegates to the annual conference of the league, meeting in th Empress Hotel.

Time and place for the large-scale rendezvous were among the items on a lengthy agenda which will occupy the two-day conference.

Also under discussion is a trip to Canada by 25 United Kingdom and five Swedish cadets, and the expansion across Canada of the junior cadet corps, which is in successful operation in Victoria.

Delegates attending include: C. K. McLeod, Montreal, the national president of the league; G. P. Hamm, New Brunswick; Capt. F. A. Price, R. C. Stephenson, E. F. Ritchie and J. Thompson, Quebec; C. J. Dunlop, Cmdr. F. C. Aggett and D. W. Cathers, Ontario; J. R. K. Millen, Manitoba; D. J. Thom and V. R. Smith, Saskatchewan; Capt. Reginald Jackson and J. H. Corbett, Alberta; R. J. Bicknell and Forrest L. Shaw, B.C.

Representing the navy is Cmdr. D. C. Elliott. Commodore Kenneth Adam, commodore of divisions, was scheduled to attend the conference later today.

First Come Sales Basis

Victoria drug stores likely will have a limited supply of anti-polio Salk vaccine soon, it was announced today by W. W. McGill, of McGill & Orme Ltd.

He said his firm expects a heavy run on the expected stock and will endeavour to make as fair a distribution as possible on a first-come-first-served basis.

Salk vaccine, called by doctors the best polio protection so far devised, is still not classed as "proven." But thousands of Canadian and United States children who have been innoculated have so far remained free of the dreaded disease.

At present registration has just been completed of all southern Vancouver Island grade one pupils, and of children who will enter grade one in the fall, whose parents have given permission.

JOINT PROGRAM

The vaccine is supplied in a joint federal-provincial program.

The children, considered in the age group most generally affected by polio, will receive a series of three "shots" starting the week of April 18. The second shot will be a week after the first, and the third a month following.

Health officials announced earlier due to slow production of the vaccine it would not be released to commercial outlets.

According to Mr. McGill, "several thousand doses" will be received by city drug stores. His firm expects about 500.

A Vancouver pharmaceutical house official said Thursday Vancouver drug stores will be allotted sufficient vaccine to inject most persons there between infancy and 45. He said shipment from the east depended on approval by the federal government.

UNDER PRESCRIPTION

The Salk vaccine would be sold under prescription or direct to doctors, he said, and price is estimated at between $5 and $7 for the required three doses.

Mr. McGill thinks demand will possibly hinge on the incidence of polio this year. He said his firm will urge immunization as soon as possible in order to have the three shots completed before the summer season, polio's most active time.

So far this year, Greater Victoria has recorded only two cases of polio.

ASK The TIMES

Q. Is it legal for a publishing firm in Calgary to charge the 5 per cent B.C. tax on an order of books taken here? G.B.

A. Yes, in such a case the tax must be paid. The 5 per cent is a tax on the purchase, and the buyer must pay it on what he brings into the province for his own use. The question was brought to the fore half a year ago when a study made clear B.C. was losing thousands of dollars each year as a result of residents violating sales tax regulations. However, the evasions were for the most part not intentional but were committed by citizens returning from travels and bringing articles with them and being ignorant of the fact there was a tax to pay. This led to consideration of steps to tighten up tax collection.

Q. Is there a place in Victoria where the art of jui jitsu is taught? P.D.C.

A. The Times has found no training classes for the general public in that form of self-defense in available lists of athletic organizations.

New Curry Powder Here For Week-End Dinner Roast

By PENNY SAVER

Another week-end has rolled around, and it's time to replenish our food shelves and vegetable bins.

Remember a while ago I wrote about some new curry powder? I told you the curry sauce by the same company would arrive soon. Well, it is here—and only 39 cents. The six-ounce bottle holds a spicy smelling sauce that will spruce up soups, gravies, and all sauces.

I found another sauce, too.

Perhaps you've heard about the "kiss-proof" garlic sauce. (Yes, that's what it's called.) It has the pleasant flavor and aroma of garlic, but there's no objectionable after-taste or after-breath. A four-ounce jar costs 39 cents. It's a real boon to humanity! Drop a little bit into the gravy or roaster . . . just enough to suggest the taste, and you'll receive requests for more.

I seem to have discovered a wealth of spicy and useful sauces, I have. A two-fluid-ounce jar of onion juice costs 19 cents. To perk up the taste of the chicken dressing, or to mix with butter for onion bread, this little bottle of juice will save a lot of work. You won't have your hands smelling of onion for days after using it either, 'cause you just let the drops flow from the mouth of the jar into your foods, and there's no muss or fuss.

For vegetables this week-end, I'm going to satisfy everyone in our house. I found some new parsnips at 25 cents a pound, and I'm going to mix them with the sweet new carrots that are selling at 23 cents for two bunches.

Asparagus is selling at 65 a pound, and is simply scrumptious served with a thick cheese sauce.

Speaking of cheese, have you seen the huge round of cheese being displayed (and cut up) in a local store? When it first arrived, it weighed 1,044 pounds . . . now it's considerably less, 'cause people have been buying this mild cheese just as fast as it can be cut and weighed. It's 65 cents a pound, and gets better tasting as the cuts near the bottom of the block.

It's six-month-old Ontario Cheddar cheese, and of a blend that can be eaten in little pieces, or used for cooking.

Back to the vegetables . . . for a super salad, buy a package of the mix, 13 cents, toss it with your favorite dressing, add avacados pieces. They are selling at two avacados for a quarter. This is the lowest price yet. I've been watching the price of these little green salad wonders, 'cause I really have a weakness for them.

Frothy white cauliflower is selling at around 30 cents a head, depending on the size and place you buy. Broccoli is 25 cents a pound.

How to Get Sloppy Romeo To Change His Habits

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Some people feel that they can be as careless about their appearance as they please at home. This is certainly not pleasant to live with, as the woman who wrote the following letter is discovering. She said:

Hurlock

(Q)—"My husband likes to think that he is a Romeo. He is always bragging about the way girls fall for him. Now, I wouldn't mind this too much as I know he is imagining a lot of it. If it makes him feel better, it's O.K. with me. What I do object to is his slovenliness in the house. He comes home from work, doesn't bother to wash up or change his clothes, and sometimes won't even take a bath for a week. In summer, he sometimes smells so that I hate to go near him and it makes me sick at my stomach to eat at the same table with him.

"But, when he is going out where he may see some girls, does he fix himself up! He is neat as a pin, smells like a perfume shop, and you wouldn't know he was the same man. As his wife, I feel that I should be given a chance to see him neat and clean once in awhile, too. How can I get him to change his slovenly habits?"

(A)—You are being very indulgent toward your husband and now is the time to take some action in the opposite direction. As a married man, he should not be going to places where he can flirt with girls and leaving you at home alone. It may flatter him and inflate his ego to have girls fall in love with him, but you can be sure that this does not happen without some effort on his part. Why not insist that he take you out for some fun, too?

About his appearance, that you can control by taking a firm stand. If he is not neat and clean, refuse to prepare any meals for him. No wife should be subjected to nauseating odors from perspiration at a meal. He can fix himself up properly at home just as he can when he goes out.

When he takes off dirty clothes, throw them into a tub of water and let the dirt soak out of them. When you wash them will depend on when he cleans himself up. Don't let him have clean clothes until he is willing to bathe himself as often as any self-respecting man should.

Fashions — Mrs. Nona Damaske, fashion columnist with the Victoria Daily Times, was guest speaker at meeting of the Kiwaniannes, held Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. A. R. Roberts, 935 Foul Bay Road. Her subject was "The New Season's Fashions." Plans were made for a rummage sale in Wilson Motors on April 1 at 9 a.m.

A gardenia corsage was presented to the bride-elect, while her aunt, Mrs. F. Goodwin and Mrs. R. Knutsen, mother of the groom-elect, received carnation and rosebud corsages respectively. A boat decorated in white and blue held the gifts, which were handed to Miss Mark by little Sharon Gummer. Games were played and refreshments served. Those present were Mrs. R. Knutsen, Mrs. I. Brekke, Mrs. A. Caddell, Mrs. F. Goodwin, Mrs. J. Goodwin, Mrs. W. Carpenter, Mrs. D. McPherson, Mrs. T. Harkness, Mrs. T. C. Gummer, Mrs. M. E. Gummer, Mrs. G. Mason, Mrs. B. Kilgour, Mrs. B. Rooke, Mrs. W. Norbury, Mrs. N. Colk, Mrs. J. Zabel, Mrs. D. Bradbury, Mrs. L. Rowbotham and the Misses N. Styan, Lorraine Knutsen and Sharon Gummer.

Mary Kightly Feted

Miss Gerrie Bowes was hostess at her Lee Street home recently when she entertained at a miscellaneous shower honoring bride-elect Miss Mary Kightly. A pink and white decorated umbrella held the gifts. Pastel streamers cascaded around the bride-elect's chair. She received a corsage of pink roses, while her mother, Mrs. A. V. Kightly, received one of pink carnations. Buffet refreshments were served to the guests from the bride-elect's table, which was centred by a shower cake of pink and white bearing the words, "Best Wishes, Mary and Russ." Pink candles in amber holders flanked the cake and lit the room.

Guests were Mrs. C. Ford, Mrs. Ivy Cummings, Mrs. K. Kigntly, Mrs. J. Wedell, Mrs. B. Braden, Mrs. D. DeForest, Mrs. L. Burtrand, Mrs. J. Kightly, Misses Kay Bowes, Pat Heinesen, Frances Kightly and Ada Hall.

Home for Spring Break

Winter-quarter examinations are completed, and Victorians attending University of Washington, in Seattle, have returned to spend a few days of the between-quarter break with their families. Among those who arrived during the week were Misses Kitty Dixon, Jackie Ormond and Dinah Kerr. Also home for the break is Mr. Richard Pollard.

Spring Opening

Spring opening of the Ladies' Division of Victoria Golf Club on Tuesday, March 29, will be marked with nine-hole and 18-hole two-ball foursomes in the morning, followed by a buffet luncheon in the clubhouse at 1.30 p.m. Mrs. S. L. Haynes, ladies' captain, is in charge of arrangements.

Hot Cross Buns—Plans were made at meeting of St. Matthew Evening Guild, Langford, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen, Station Road, that the guild will sponsor a sale of homemade hot cross buns with orders to be placed with members. Plans were also made for a social card party at the April meeting with Mrs. R. Wilson in charge of cards and Miss Rosemary Bullen supervising scrabble. A sum of money was voted to the Sunday school and also to the hall fund.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Repeated Speech Habits Can Become Wearing

Q.—"I hope you can explain the following to me; my girl friend has acquired the habit of repeating almost every sentence when she talks. This habit has become so annoying to her co-workers that they try to avoid talking to her. This has been going on for about a year. Frankly, it is beginning to bother me and I hope you can throw some light on the situation.

"Is this habit a mannerism due to middle age or does she need medical attention?"

A.—I am not sure that I know what you mean but I think I do. For instance, she might say, "It was raining, it was raining, and we started to go to the theatre, to go to the theatre, but we had trouble finding a cab, we had trouble finding a cab. It was raining, it was raining." Well, you can't get any place that way, I agree!

I think, though, that a middle-aged woman who is thought of as a girl friend ought to be quicker on the uptake. Maybe you ought to take her to a doctor! I am afraid that you have asked the wrong person this question because at our house one has to fight for every word and every sentence the first time.

I have been having a little fun with you and your girl friend. Forgive me. Let me call to your attention one thing; most persons have mannerisms in conversation. These become habits. If they are not too wearing they are even attractive as a part of the individual personality, however, many of them are unattractive.

Some people always start a sentence with "well" while others may finish most sentences with "You see?"—or "Hmmmmmm."

Often if such habits are called to the attention of the person she or he can correct it and will be anxious to do so. The habit has been adopted unconsciously.

I can think of two reasons for the habit of which you write. In the first place, it might come from serious fatigue or exhaustion. In the second place, it could have its foundation in a feeling of insecurity, which makes the individual feel that she must repeat in order to put her thoughts across or to get attention.

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

"You know what?" questioned the pleasant-faced woman I often meet at a downtown bus stop of a morning. "I've got daffodils out. A whole row of 'em. Along by the house where the sun hits most of the day. They're in full bloom, mind you."

From where we stood, we could see patches of snow still lying on the Sooke Hills. Workmen standing beside us were talking about the high wind last night. The pleasant-faced woman was shivering a bit in the chill air of 7 a.m.

Bessie

But she had daffodils out in her garden and she knew spring was here.

"It's in the air," she told me.

She's right. Regardless of chill winds and snow patches on the hills, spring has been in and around Victoria for a good many days.

You would know it if you listened to the birds in the early hours of the day and again at dusk. There's a new note in their twitterings and there's a great hustling and bustling going on under the eaves—at least there is at our house—as they built or renovate their nests.

You would know it, too, if you walked across the downs above the sea. In the hollows between the great grey rocks, where the thick grass is sheltered from the winds, there is a warmth rising from the ground.

A hint that spring has touched old Mother Earth's shoulder. She is stirring . . . waking to new life.

You'll find another sign if you look up at the branches of the early flowering trees. At first glance the brown branches look bare and stark. Then, your eyes catch the glint of pale pink petals, opening slowly to the caressing fingers of spring. Another day . . . perhaps two . . . and these trees will be drenched in bloom.

Walk in the garden. Stand close to a bed of wallflowers. They won't be in full bloom like my pleasant-faced friend's daffodils but the buds are gradually unfolding. If you're lucky you'll get a whiff of perfume. It's heady . . . it's exciting.

Breath deep and remember it well. It's a perfume that belongs only to this season of the year. Find it and you'll know my friend of the daffodils is right. Spring IS here.

It's in the air!

WOMEN IN PARLIAMENT

Woman Senior Government Official, Alone in Position

By RUTH CAMPBELL

OTTAWA—By no means all those responsible for the efficient functioning of Parliament have a place on the floor of the House of Commons. Behind the scenes, at the beck and call of the minister of the Crown and his ever-at-elbow parliamentary assistant (also an elected MP), is the solid phalanx of the permanent federal civil service, from harried deputy ministers down to hurried office boys.

There are few women in the upper echelons of the civil service, but one outstandingly efficient and effective senior government official is Mrs. Adelaide Sinclair, executive assistant to Dr. George Davidson, deputy minister of health, in the steadily expanding department of national health and welfare, the important portfolio held by the Hon. Paul Martin.

Training and experience have fitted Adelaide Sinclair most adequately to be the health deputy's right-hand woman. An honor graduate of the University of Toronto in economics and political science, she taught those subjects at her alma mater prior to her marriage. Widowed in 1938, Mrs. Sinclair followed voluntary work in Toronto in the early days of the war by six months' duty as a research economist with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, checking price controls and operations in the United States and abroad.

It was in 1943 that Captain Dorothy Isherwood, commanding officer of British WRENS, came to Canada to organize this country's women's naval service. After two months as a probationary sublieutenant, Adelaide Sinclair was chosen as Canadian commandant.

Doffing trim navy blues and the "scrambled eggs" of senior rank in 1946, Mrs. Sinclair took over her postwar appointment as executive assistant to the health deputy minister—another pioneering job. This branch of national health and welfare (then headed by the Hon. Brooke Claxton) was a new departure, just beginning to expand and to build up its comprehensive health program.

Diversity is the order of Mrs. Sinclair's day, interlarded with the planning of programs for holders of United Nations scholarships coming to Canada, with committee meetings (on which she is frequently the only woman), with policy decisions and telephone consultations—and speeches, of course.

Nationally and internationally, however Adelaide Sinclair is perhaps best known for her notable contribution to the work of the United Nations in general, and UNICEF—the UN children's fund—in particular.

The department of external affairs said that someone from the specialized Canadian welfare field should sit on the UN children's fund committee. The logical person for the assignment was Adelaide Sinclair. Work with UNICEF led to wider duties with the United Nations. In 1950 Mrs. Sinclair went to Lake Success as a government delegate to the UN general assembly; in 1953 to the UN Association sponsoring seminars for high school students at Banff, and in 1954 to Manitoba.

Forty-six new building lots soon may be put up for sale by the city following a motion by city council finance committee Thursday.

The committee will recommend to council a $32,000 extension of Richardson and Montgomery Streets in the Pemberton Woods area.

Spring Clean-Up Starts On Victoria Water Mains

City residents in some areas may notice their drinking water becoming cloudy today as clean-out operations begin on 36 and 20-inch watermains.

The situation will be temporary and officials point out there is no need for alarm.

A finned rotary scraper will be inserted in a main at Princess and Gorge and will be propelled by the water flow through to Princess and Blanshard. It will remove sediment from the sides of the pipe.

Later public works employees will travel through the pipes on trolleys similar to a surf board with roller skate wheels. They will inspect the pipe for flaws.

When the inspection is complete a machine will pass through the mains which will put a coat of cement on the pipe's inner wall.

During the several days the operation will require, water flow will be diverted through other mains and there will be no halt in the water supply to householders.

Hearing March 25 In Traffic Fatality

Preliminary hearing of a 16-year-old "car jockey" charged with manslaughter was set in city police court Thursday for March 25.

Rudolph Zembrodt, 1202 Fort, a car jockey at Wilson Motors Ltd., was charged following the January 16 death of John T. Gawthrop, aged 60, of 1115 Leonard.

Gawthrop died following a two-car collision four days earlier at Hillside and Blackwood.

Zembrodt's case was transferred from juvenile court to city court. He is free on $2,500 bail.

DR. N. V. PEALE

"Well," she said, "I'll tell you what it is. My playmates, they make me happy. I like them. My school makes me happy. I like to go to school. I like my teachers. And I like to go to church. I like Sunday school and my Sunday-school teacher. I love my sister Margaret and my brother John. I love my mother and father. They take care of me when I'm sick, and they love me and are good to me."

GOOD FORMULA

That is Elizabeth's formula for happiness, and it seems to me that it's all there—her playmates (that's her associates), her school (the place where she works), her church and Sunday school (where she worships), her sister, brother, mother, and father (that means the home circle where love is found). There you have happiness in a nutshell, and the happiest time of your life is in relation to those factors.

A group of boys and girls were asked to list the things that made them happiest. Here is the boys' list: "A swallow flying, looking into deep, clear water; water being cut at the bow of a boat; a fast train rushing; a builder's crane lifting something heavy; my dog's eyes."

And here is what the girls said made them happy: "Street lights on the river; red roofs in the trees; smoke rising from a chimney; red velvet; the moon in the clouds." There is something in the beautiful essence of the universe that is expressed, though only half-articulated, by these things.

NOT COMPLICATED

Many of us manufacture our own unhappiness. Of course not all unhappiness is self-created, for living conditions are responsible for not a few of our woes. Yet it is a fact that to a large extent by our thoughts and attitudes we distill out of the ingredients of life either happinness or unhappiness for ourselves.

Yet happiness is achievable and the process for obtaining it is not complicated. Anyone who desires it, who wills it, and who learns and applies the right formula may become a happy person.

The happiness habit is developed by simply practicing happy thinking. Make a mental list of happy thoughts and pass them through your mind several times every day. If an unhappiness thought should enter your mind, immediately stop, consciously eject it, and substitute a happiness thought. Every morning deliberately drop happy thoughts into your conscious mind. Let a series of pictures pass across your mind of each happy experience you expect to have during the day. Savor their joy. Such thoughts will help cause events to turn out that way. Do not affirm that things will not go well that day. By merely saying that, you can actually help to make it so. You will draw to yourself every factor, large and small, that will contribute to unhappy conditions. As a result, you will find yourself asking, "Why does everything go badly for me? What is the matter with everything?"

TRY THIS PLAN

The reason can be directly traced to the manner in which you began the day in your thoughts.

Tomorrow try this plan instead. When you get up, say out loud three times this one sentence, "This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it" (Psalm 118:24.) Only personalize it and say, "I will rejoice and be glad in it." Repeat it in a strong, clear voice and with positive tone and emphasis. The statement, of course, is from the Bible and it is a good cure for unhappiness. If you repeat that one sentence three times before breakfast and meditate on the meaning of the words you will change the character of the day by starting off with a happiness psychology.

Tidal Wave Alert In North Pacific

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — A submarine earthquake off Siberia's Kamchatka Peninsula Thursday touched off a tidal wave alert throughout the North Pacific from the Aleutians to Hawaii and Guam.

The Hawaiian Sea Frontier canceled the alert Thursday night after Aleutian and Midway Island check points reported all safe.

The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey station on Attu Island reported the time for a seismic sea wave had passed without any disturbance. Attu is on the western tip of the Aleutian chain nearest to Kamchatka.

A similar report came later from Midway in the Central Pacific.

Seismic sea waves travel about 450 miles an hour.

The Japan Weather Bureau in Tokyo said a quake shook Kamchatka at 4.11 p.m., PST, Thursday.

At Pasadena, a California Institute of Technology scientist said the quake was of medium intensity, 6.8 magnitude on the Richter scale.

The fourth major earthquake in two weeks was recorded at the dominion astrophysical observatory near here Thursday. The tremors lasted close to four hours.

"It was definitely a major quake," a spokesman said. "I should say it was about 1,000 miles from here and was in the Kamchatka region. It was probably not as strong as the one in the same area in 1952."

The tremors started at 4.15 p.m., PST.

DOUKHOBORS ON HUNGER STRIKE

NELSON (BUP) — More than a dozen Doukhobors were on a hunger strike today in what police said was a mass protest against the provincial government's rigid school policies.

Police said they would watch the situation closely before deciding whether to take action.

The strike began in nearby Grand Forks one week ago, but was not discovered until a doctor was called Thursday to attend an elderly Freedomite. The doctor said the 75-year-old Doukhobor was suffering from lack of food. He said other members of the fasting group were in good health.

The sect was staging the strike because of the government's recent enforcement of laws demanding all children to attend school. Some 40 young freedomites were rounded up and taken by police to New Denver where they now are being forced to attend school.

Separate Trials For Boy, 3 Men Held for Murder

VANCOUVER (CP) — Separate trials were granted today to three men and a boy charged with murdering a Chinese grocer last December.

In granting the plea for severance, Mr. Justice A. M. Manson agreed with defense counsel that it would be "extremely difficult" for a jury to consider evidence against one defendant without prejudicing the defense of others.

Those facing the murder charge are: Chow Bew, 43, Eng Git Lee, 38, Donald K. Cathro, 26, and Richard Wong, 17.

They are charged with slaying grocer Ah Wing, 65, proprietor of Macdonald Market, who died of strangulation in a holdup attempt.

New Compensation Protection For B.C. Fishermen Outlined

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks Thursday revealed details of a compensation plan which is now open to an estimated 5,000 B.C. fishermen.

The plan is designed specifically to provide coverage to "independent operators," who own their own boats, and sell their catch to the highest bidder.

Fishermen desiring compensation protection must apply to the Workmen's Compensation Board, stating the number of months for which they want coverage and estimating their earnings during that period.

$100 MINIMUM

A minimum of $100 a month, and a maximum of $333 have been set.

Cost of the plan to an individual fisherman would be two per cent of his estimated earnings. If he estimates his earnings on the $100 minimum, he would pay $6 for a three-month fishing season. Using the maximum earnings figure, he would pay $20.

"It is felt no fisherman can afford to be without this protection because of the wide benefits and the low cost," Mr. Wicks said.

If a fisherman is injured, he will receive compensation of 75 per cent of his estimated earnings, with a minimum of $25 per week.

All medical attention, drugs and hospitalization, will be paid by the WCB. If he dies as the sult of an accident, his widow will receive $75 until her death, or a lump sum of $1,200 when she remarries.

For each dependent child up to age 16, the board will pay $25 a month. This payment will be continued up to age 18 if the child is at school.

Tiny pieces of nickel speed cabled words three times faster across the Atlantic 1200 FEET DOWN, on the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean is a metal case. In it is an electronic amplifier. Electric signals weak from the long journey by cable are here amplified and reshaped into stronger, clearer signals. With this single installation the cable's capacity was increased from 50 to 167 words a minute.

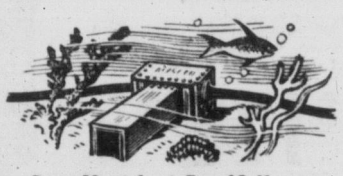
This is possible only because of the presence of tiny pieces of nickel in the amplifier's vacuum tube.

For years now, communication between this Continent and the United Kingdom and Europe has been a problem. It was particularly serious during the war when communication channels were overloaded by Allied Governments, military and press.

The first of these amplifiers was installed recently by Western Union on the company's cable which stretches under the Atlantic from Bay Roberts, Newfoundland, to Penzance, England.

THE NEW UNDERSEAS CABLE "BOOSTER" being lowered to the ocean floor, where it will amplify trans-Atlantic signals—allowing us to get messages from Europe three times faster than before. This is possible only because of the use of tiny pieces of nickel in the amplifier's vacuum tube.



Case Must Last For 40 Years

Nickel alloys were used at vital points to guard the case containing the amplifier against the many forms of marine corrosion that occur below the ocean's surface. A life of 40 years was demanded.

Inco research and development teams in co-operation with industry have been in the forefront of the world's metallurgical developments since 1921. The knowledge and experience gained are among Inco's greatest assets. Inco research points the way to Inco's future!

"The Romance of Nickel", a 72-page book, fully illustrated, will be sent free on request. Bulk copies supplied Secondary School teachers.

Brooklyn Eagle Ends Publication; Blames Guild

NEW YORK (AP)—The 114-year-old Pulitzer Prize winning Brooklyn Eagle, only major daily newspaper published in a community of nearly 3,000,000 persons, announced Wednesday it is through.

Publisher Frank D. Schroth said the paper could not survive if it had to meet the wage demands of 315 striking news and commercial department employees. The strikers belong to the American Newspaper Guild (CIO).

"Faced with the choice of accepting terms that would have doubled the great financial loss of 1954 or of suspending completely, we have chosen to quit," Schroth said. "In these circumstances there is no hope for us. The Newspaper Guild is malignant."

BCE Opposes Vancouver Fare Cut

VANCOUVER (BUP) — A spokesman for the B.C. Electric Company says it will resist any attempts to have its fares lowered—even for a six-month period.

A company spokesman said Thursday that "we've never heard of such a proposition before in any other city." The statement came following reports that special counsel T. G. Norris representing the city of Vancouver, plans to discuss ways of recovering the so-called "extra" money collected by the transit company during the period when it charged a 15-cent transit cash fare.

Vancouver Alderman E. G. Adams says "the city has taken the necessary legal steps to look after any interests the citizens may have in the amount of excess fares collected."

Esquimalt Legion Elects Officers

New president of Esquimalt Legion, Branch 172, is J. E. Radley. He was elected Wednesday night over D. G. Woods.

The posts of president and second vice-president were the only ones contested, all other offices and chairmanships filled by acclamation.

William Herd beat James Bell in the race for second vice-presidency. Ed Mullett is first vice-president.

Other positions are: W. N. Glover, sergeant at arms; Fred Fry, finance committee; Alex Alnutt, ways and means; Bud Newton, house committee; H. A. Irvine, membership, and J. E. Carey, sick and pensions committee and welfare officer for the Esquimalt area.

Rupert Soldiers Try Guns Here

First firing excercise of 5th West Coast Harbor Defense Battery to include Prince Rupert 120 Troop will be held at the week-end at Fort Mary Hill.

The battery was formed only last year, replacing 75th HA Regiment, coastal defense.

With the 12 men from 120 Troop will be two officers, Captain James Hadden in command.

Also to take part in the scheme are Victoria College Canadian Officers' Training Corps and 25th Medical Company. In charge will be Major T. D. Eckford.

Slacks on Girls Forbidden

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP) —High school girls here were ordered Thursday not to wear slacks in classrooms, but some parents in this far northern community maintain that skirts in winter are more ornamental than protecting.

Girls have been wearing slacks to school to protect themselves from below-zero weather as they wait for buses. Now they'll have to pack a skirt along, too, and change when they get to school.

STRAWBERRY HARVEST, SCHOOLS OUT

INDEPENDENCE, La. (UP)—The high school year ended today for students of the Independence High School, including 71 graduating seniors.

The school begins in mid-summer and closes out early every spring so students can help in the strawberry harvest, now in progress in this "strawberry capital of the world."

Paddle, Jail Ordered for Two Armed Robbers

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) Six strokes of the paddle and long prison terms were imposed in police court here this week on two men convicted of an armed raid on a butcher's home in suburban Capilano Highlands.

Magistrate Dou Pool imposed the paddle and a 10-year prison term on Leonard Stanley McLeod, 42, and the paddle and five years on Donald Holmwood, 42.

The pair pleaded guilty to holding up George Freeman at gunpoint in his home February 24.

They also pleaded guilty to two holdup charges laid in connection with a raid on Neale's Pharmacy in North Vancouver February 28.

Last week the two men were sentenced to seven and six year prison terms for armed robbery in Vancouver. The sentences will run concurrently.

Heidt's Mother Dead

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Heidt, 87, mother of band leader Horace Heidt, died Wednesday night. For a quarter of a century the band leader signed off his broadcasts with an affectionate "good night, mother." He flew home for the funeral.

Small Loggers Ousted Here, Says Gibson

SQUAMISH, B.C. (CP) — Forest management licenses covering large tracts of timber should only be granted in non-competitive areas, Gordon Gibson said here Thursday night.

The fiery ex-logger said large companies already have squeezed out the small logger in most of Vancouver Island and along the coast.

"Forest management is an issue between the 1 per cent who get licenses and the 99 per cent who don't," he said.

"Vancouver Island which is ideal for the small loggers has been lost to them," he said. "Six large firms have been given 75 per cent of the Island."

The panda bear of the Himalaya mountains is almost exclusively a vegetarian.

B.C. Drug Drive Sends Traffickers Scurrying East

EDMONTON (CP)—Two men and a woman were arrested by an RCMP narcotics squad here as police continued their attempts to curb an increase of transient drug peddlars and addicts.

The increase is blamed by police on Vancouver's clean-up campaign, which has pushed drug traffickers eastward to Prairie points.

Arrested Tuesday were Anthony Emil, Doris McMann and George Cresswell. All reserved pleas on charges of illegal possession of heroin and were remanded to next Tuesday.

Semenick Broke, Lacks $50 To Pay for Court Transcript

VANCOUVER (CP)—William Semenick, who last week had bail on a drug trafficking charge set at $20,000, said Wednesday he hasn't got the price of a $50 transcript.

John D. McAlpine, representing Semenick in an appeal against conviction on a charge of obstructing justice, told the appeal judges Semenick is without funds and the attorney-general has refused to pay $50 for a transcript of the trial which convicted him.

The court agreed to allow Semenick to make the appeal March 30 without appeal books.

Douglas TV & Appliances
When we opened our store a year ago, we were aware of the fact that television and appliances is a highly competitive market and that our location is far from the downtown shopping area.
For a new business to build, and hold, sales volume with these handicaps in a city the size of Victoria, it requires strong advertising . . . WITH EVERY DOLLAR PRODUCING UTMOST RESULTS.
We soon learned that the local daily newspaper is the only advertising medium that gets right into the homes of just about every prospective customer in this city and surrounding area. Because these customers can't always come in and see us, we consider it a MUST TO CALL IN AND SEE THEM through their local daily paper. It is the quickest and surest way to get our story and our products in front of them.
Our successful first year in business could never have been accomplished without the constant use and help of the local daily newspapers. We in turn have made it a strong policy to back our advertising with excellent service and topnotch products.

BRIDGE LESSON

By Oswald Jacoby

Every experienced bridge player knows that it is important to keep the dangerous hand out of the lead. The play of today's hand illustrates a subtle point of this kind.

Declarer won the opening lead in dummy with the ace of diamonds and led a trump to the king. West held off, and South led the queen of spades. West held off again, and East completed a high-low in diamonds, indicating fairly clearly that he had the king of that suit.

South couldn't afford to lead another trump. If he did, West would take the ace of spades and continue the diamonds, forcing South to ruff the third diamond. This would leave South and West with one trump each. Whenever South knocked out the ace of clubs, West would lead still another diamond to force out declarer's last trump. West would then win the setting trick with his own last trump.

Instead of leading a third trump, therefore, South switched to clubs. He led a low club to dummy's king, and West ducked. Declarer led another club, and West took the ace. Now, however, West led a diamond to his partner's king; and East returned another club, allowing West to take the setting trick with a club ruff.

South could have made the contract by ducking the first trick instead of taking dummy's ace of diamonds. This would give the defenders their sure diamond trick at a time when neither opponent was dangerous.

If the defenders led a second diamond to dummy's ace, as good a defense as any, declarer would continue with two rounds of trumps and then switch to clubs. West could hold the ace of clubs until the second round, but then he would be unable to get to East's hand for a club ruff.

West would be unable to resume the diamonds, for dummy's last trump would be used to accept the ruff. South would then get back to his hand with a heart to force out the ace of trumps. In short, there would be no defense if South ducked the first trick and thus gave the dangerous opponent the lead before he was really dangerous.

It's Lopes Versus Costa at the Garden Tonight

It pays to advertise but it certainly costs too.

Or at least that's what London advertisers are going to discover when they plug their wares over British screens when commercial telecasts start next autumn.

The Associated Broadcasting Company recently announced that advertising on Britain's future television station for London will cost up to £1,000 a minute for choice spots. Six one-minute periods will be allowed each hour. These are week-end rates. Commercial programs originating in Birmingham week days will cost a high of £500 per minute.

In the U.S. a 20-second-to-one-minute commercial in New York at the peak viewing hour costs the sponsor a minimum $1,575 up to a maximum $4,500.

But if the advertiser wants his product seen over a New York network with 53 basis station the charge will be $9,386 for a minute's plug.

In Canada things are much easier.

A one-minute commercial over Vancouver's station costs a high of $54. Toronto's CBLT, on the other hand, charges $180 a minute. Regina's private TV station CKCK charges sponsors $45 a minute during the peak viewing time while Winnipeg's CBWT charges only $40.

Pacific Northwest American stations' rates are comparable to Canadian rates.

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE!: The Ontario Legislature was told recently that "at least $2,000,000" awaits the person who invents a gadget that will take people away from their TV sets long enough to answer the door. Conservative MLA Harold Fishleigh suggested the thingamajig should be linked to the doorbell so that a flash on the TV screen would warn the viewer that someone was outside wanting in.

Meanwhile, on 11, Peggy Wood's Mama lives it up under the title of "Dagmar and the Girl Scouts." For those who dote on mysteries Col. March follows a phony art dealer on 12 while International Police prowl 13.

8.30: What do you want? Drama? Comedy? Music? There is Waterfront on 4; Ray Bolger aids an old vaudeville actor and his pooch to get a job on 5, while "Topper Makes a Movie" plays on 11. Violinist Florian ZaBach holds sway on 12.

9.00: Channel 11, Playhouse of Stars appears to hold top billing at this hour. Entitled "Ride to the West," the plot concerns a gunman who arrives at the town of Nightshade with his brother only to discover that the only living souls to be found are an old man and his granddaughter. John Ireland is the star. The Big Story drama plays on 4; Mr. District Attorney on 5 and TV music on 2. The variety program of Robert Q. Lewis can be found on 12.

9.30: Two Dear Phoebe comedies are slated here. The one on Channel 4 is about Phoebe's editor deciding to give her a big buildup called "A Face for Phoebe." Channel 2's episode is called "Humphrey Gets Drafted," wherein Humphrey not only runs into trouble with the army but with his gal friend. Eve Arden and Dick Green laugh it up on Channel 11's Our Miss Brooks, about how much trouble a seemingly innocent April Fool's joke can cause. Jack Webb's Badge 714 plays on Channel 5 and a Mr. and Mrs. North mystery on 12. This last is about a corpse found one quiet evening.

10.00 Mainly drama here. But if you are not in the mood for deep and dark try Eddie Fisher who will sing to you from Channel 4. "Borrowed Byline" is The Whistler's drama offering on 5, about a reporter attempting to make a shady deal. The Lineup, on 11, concerns a stolen car and an assaulted couple.

10.30 Edmond O'Brien stars in "Dark Stranger" on Channel 2's The Star And The Story. News can be picked up on Channels 5 and 11.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

SATURDAY MARCH 19, 1955

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Temptation to have fixed battle with others should be studiously avoided, even though it means to absent yourself from loved one until things cool. Then you have more health, harmony tomorrow.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—You really want to let fly at some official with some choice comments that would only add to your present confusion, muddled thinking. Instead, think of ways to get better credit rating, prestige.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—You are so annoyed at some secret worry, private anxiety that you might as well get away and let it simmer down a bit; then you come under fine aspects for making progress toward securing data you now need. Go away on trip.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Forceful friend can give you some good ideas about a venture with another, but "stop, look, listen" before following, since there is unconsciously a bias present that also needs to be considered. Compromise.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—So many matters that you do not like or understand come into the open that you'd be wise to sit back, let them unfold before jumping in, making decisions, breaking up present conditions with full knowledge of all facts.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Being undecided about whether to tackle mountain of errands, chores or get off to new places; persons should be decided early—then stick to decision. You lose out in all ways by vacillating. Be careful of accidents on highway.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Temptation to spend far more than you can afford just doesn't make good sense in any man's language. Make sure you enjoy simple, inexpensive fun, which is best after all.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Unpredictable person, event at home can throw you at loss unless you hold close to secure, stalwart associate who holds steady despite all this ado. A smile will save any situation if you remain poised now.

SAGITTAURIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—By refusing to make that sharp comment that your Hit-the-Target Sagittaurius would like to utter saves your face when you later find how wrong you could be; keep kindly, gentle, animated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Just forget to push matters where more assets are concerned. Be with those with sense of fun similar to your own. Get beauty treatments, haircut etc. Then be agreeable to all attachments. Perfect hobbies.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—You are likely to be at loggerheads with close tie, but that should not keep you from doing your duty, your job well, even though the other is connected with such chore. Do what is necessary to get your health at higher level.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—Secret sorrow, private anxiety still should not be be paid any attention or it grows all out of proportion. Do errands, help kin, neighbors, correct accounts, then all is in better shape for important coming week.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SATURDAY . . .

Saturday's child is one of those active tots who really enjoys a good scrap and who should early be encouraged to work off all that energy on sports, exercise, construction sets, etc., in early years. The later years will be easier, more harmonious, but there will still be a temptation to start an argument just for the fun of it. Your problem is to channel your offspring's energies early in constructive ways without permitting bombastic views, unwise arguments to express themselves. Fine for military, governmental vocations.

SUNDAY, MARCH 20, 1955

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Spending as much time as possible with ardent admirers, stalwart, sturdy supporters, potential partners brings you their good will, respect, affection, devotion when you show them you really like, appreciate them.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—After worship, seek out any influential individuals you know. Let them know what your public, civic, vocational, credit aims actually are, for they bring you great support, prestige, realization.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Your newspaper gives excellent suggestions, so review all issues available to get gist of helpful suggestions therein contained. Then listen to radio, TV, and study spiritual tracts, etc. You become saturated with ideas.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21) — You have deep hunch, spiritual insight into ways to make your love for others more evident in everyday dealings. Let nothing keep you from showing affection, devotion to others. Forget slights. Be generous.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Get together with charming partner, after devotions; get off on day's jaunt to fascinating places, people with whom you find peace, contentment, solace. Steer clear of depressing home conditions.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — After services of your choice, tone up your surroundings, living quarters by making them more comfortable, efficient. Fine for sensible diet, enjoying pets. P.M., clean everything for future use.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Now you have day when unusual feeling of well-being is in air if you will only keep your mind, attention centred away from financial, property interests. Fine for entertainment, recreation, sports, hobbies, romance. Be happy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Making your home more harmonious means with members of your family as well as with inanimate objects. Be sure you keep smile, charm evident to all about. P.M. requires you keep cheerful, avoid depression.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Your mind is working so swiftly, accurately that you need to achieve a great deal which gives you chance to visit all with whom you can come to better understanding. Make deals, contracts. Fix car. Attend to letters.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Deep-seated, inherited convictions stand you in good stead—attend worship of your choice to make them more on surface in your thinking, then put them in execution. Avoid demanding, time-consuming friend.

ACQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Avoid all authorities; be as personal as you like with close companions. Take treatments, relaxations that increase your physical stamina. Resolve to live more in tune with your own good. P.M., romance, recreation fine.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—Quiet pleasures are excellent for you after you have early found surcease from woes at your own spiritual front. Plan schedule for coming week's activities that lops off unnecessary waste, saves precious time.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SUNDAY . . .

Sunday's child is one of those very delightful youngsters who will be loaded with charm and attractiveness but who will be tempted to live on that magnetism, since things come so easily from others, unless you early teach that only that which you have really earned by your own efforts is truly appreciated. Fine for vocations connected with the desire of the general public for pleasure, entertainment and adornment. Your child will not be able to stand gloomy or depressive persons or places.

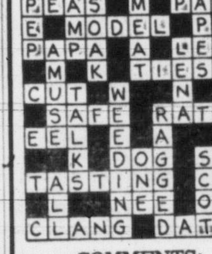
Times Crosswords Answer
Puzzle No. 103



COMMENTS:

ACROSS:
5. PATH is preferred to BATH since probably only a small proportion of visitors might see the BATH; perhaps none at all. All would probably see the PATH on approaching the house.
8. MODEL is preferred. MODES are fashions, not garments. The DEMAND is really for CLOTHING EMBODYING the latest MODES and not for the MODES themselves. MODEL is more satisfactory in this respect.
11. LENT fits the wording of the clue better. If you are LEFT a treasured heirloom it is in practically all cases LEFT in the will or at least after the owner has passed away. Thus the present tense used in the clue—"will expect"—indicates present existence and so would apply more aptly to LENT.
13. The clue has already mentioned the act of smoking, so "CUT it out" follows quite naturally. No mention has been made of anything to PUT out. PUT would be more apt if the clue commenced: "Start to smoke A CIGARETTE . . ."
17. A man who is in a position where he isn't SAFE may WELL need protection. One who isn't SANE needs help or medical care rather than "protection."
18. "Youngster" favors RATIO, which may well be a bit baffling to a boy in his school studies. It is not only youngsters who are likely to find RADIO a bit baffling. There are millions of adults who have little or no knowledge of the subject.
26. CLANG, yes; but SLANG would jar upon his sensibilities rather than his ears, since SLANG does not necessarily lack harmony.
27. DATA is preferred. The clue says "the wrong." Thus the DATE would suggest the DATE of the day in question, that is, the DATE on which the man was enquiring. He would more likely look at the calendar for this and not to his secretary. He might well, however, ask her about a certain DATE, in which case the clue would read "a wrong DATE" and not "the wrong DATE." DATA, however, fits the wording very aptly.

DOWN:
1. It's certainly nice for a child to have PEP, or vigor. But a child that did not like animals, or was afraid of them, would not appreciate a PUP. All agree that POP is not necessarily nice for a child to have.
3. A good SOAK always helps, but, if you happen to be using a detergent, the additional use of SOAP is not recommended.
4. The clue implies that there are people who always like to have it and would miss it badly if there weren't any. MEAT is apt. It is not just SOME PEOPLE who want HEAT; ALL people absolutely need HEAT at certain times and to be without it would involve much more than "quite a hardship."
7. HIT is best since the clue specifies "popular." HOT equally describes many a number that is not particularly popular.
10. AMUSE is apt. It is very debatable whether a parrot, not knowing the meaning of the words it mimics, can ABUSE people.
14. TALKS is preferred. Many TALES are well worth hearing again so that TALKS is more apt, as the same TALKS heard over again can conceivably be very boring.
15. WEEDING is best. The clue says "enough for this time," indicating he anticipates the possibility of a next time. No decent man, when he gets married, looks forward to another WEDDING. A man, after weeding, knows full well that there will be more WEEDING to do once the weeds grow again. SEEDING is more rare than WEEDING.
16. TOUGH is more apt. "A sailor"—a professional one is implied—takes ROUGH passages more or less in his stride. TOUGH—that is, TOUGH even for a sailor—is better.
22. SCOT is the more apt answer. For SPOT why does the clue specify or single out "Britain." Many countries are fairly well endowed with famous SPOTS. It is well known, however, that BRITAIN in particular has an especially large number of famous SCOTS in business and industry and in all walks of life. SHOT is not favored.

$150 Million Federal School Aid Suggested

Edmonton Educationist's National Survey Recommends Huge Annual Grant by Ottawa

SASKATOON (CP)—Canada's first comprehensive national survey of school financing contains a recommendation for a $150,000,000 annual federal grant for elementary and secondary education.

The 229-page report, more than two years in the making, was prepared for the Canadian School Trustees' Association school finance resaerch committee by Dr. M. E. Lazerte of Edmonton.

It was disclosed briefly Thursday at the closing session of the Saskatchewan School Trustees' Association convention by Prof. Morley P. Toombs of the University of Saskatchewan's education faculty. He is secretary of the research committee.

The report's opening paragraph says "support for education is thought by many to rest too heavily on local districts and to be too exclusively borne by real property." Local districts had been asking provincial governments to assume a larger share of education costs.

REMEDIAL INSTRUCTION

1. That, wherever possible, schools provide remedial instruction to prevent pupil maladjustment resulting from irregular attendance, large class enrollments and other causes.

2. That individual class enrollments be limited to numbers that make possible effective teaching and supervision.

3. That the minimum standard of certification for teachers be two years of teacher education beyond senior matriculation and that no person be given a professional certificate unless he attains this standard.

4. That larger school units be the basis for school administration.

5. That all real property on which taxes are or should be levied for the support of schools be accurately and equitably assessed.

6. That a foundation program defined in terms of per-weighted pupil or per-weighted classroom costs be introduced by each province.

Weighted refers to estimating the cost of providing the different types of service as between elementary, high school and technical school.

7. That the numerous grants now available to schools be replaced by one basic equalization grant which, added to the revenue from a uniform tax applied to the equalized assessment of a district, is sufficient to finance operation of the basic foundation program.

8. That provincial governments increase their grants for capital expenditures.

9. That the federal government assist each province in raising the level of its foundation program to an acceptable standard.

10. That to assist in financing elementary and secondary education the federal government be requested to grant $150,000,000 a year at the present time, one-third of this aid to be on a per-pupil basis and two-thirds as equalization grants to the provinces with low tax-paying ability, the latter payments to be proportional to provincial needs.

Power Demand Seen Harmful To Fish Supply

Larger power demands placed on B.C. rivers are detrimental to fish conservation, Victoria Rotarians were told Thursday by deputy provincial fisheries minister George Alexander.

But proper management of our resources will mean a sustained yield, he thought.

He used the halibut industry as an example of successful rehabilitation of a depleted resource.

Commercial exports of halibut from the province began in 1888, he said. Within a few years nearby sources were depleted. The fishing fleet enlarged and fished year round. No new banks could be found.

In 1913 the B.C. government made history with a deep-sea study of the depletion, but nothing was accomplished in conservation until years later.

Since controls were instituted, the yield has increased two and one-half times. Larger catches are being taken in a shorter season. In 1932, the season lasted eight and one-half months. Now it is one month.

Mays High On Rookie

FORT MYERS, Fla. (UP) — Willie Mays' personal recommendation guaranteed rookie Roberto Clemente "a closer look than usual" from Pittsburgh manager Fred Haney.

"Mays told me that we might have ourselves quite a ballplayer in Clement," said Haney, directing a bunting drill as he stood only a few feet from home plate.

"Willie played on the same club with Clemente in Puerto Rico this winter," Haney added, "and he told me he can run, field and hit in big league style.

"When one outfielder gives his personal recommendation to another, it generally means something. And when you hear something like that from a ballplayer like Willie Mays, it carries that much more importance."

Walt Alston Not Cocky

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Walter Alston, more determined and aggressive than a year ago when he took over the Dodgers, today predicted Brooklyn will have "a better ball club" in 1955 than last season although he isn't talking pennant.

"The league's too tough to talk about winning the pennant in the spring," he said. "But I've got to be optimistic.

"The way I look at it, we have the hitting, the defense, and the speed. That leaves pitching, which I'll admit is my No. 1 problem. But I'll say this, the potential is there for the best pitching staff in the league and it's up to me to bring it out."

And while he did not say so, Alston indicated he wasn't worried on that score. He made it plain, too, that he figured the club would be stronger because he would be a better manager.

Campbell River Firemen Arrest Resort Blaze

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP) — Volunteer firemen answered a call out of their area Thursday and saved a large resort cabin at Saratoga Beach, 14 miles south of here, from destruction by fire.

Owners of Timberlane Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. H. Stalworthy, returned from holidays in the afternoon and 20 minutes after they entered their cabin the fire started, presumably from a short circuit.

Market Probe Attacked by GOP Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator J. William Fulbright declared today that "professional Republicans" are trying to plunge the current Senate stock market inquiry into partisan politics because they seem to lack confidence in the American economy.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate banking committee, hit back at the Republican national chairman, Leonard Hall, who criticized the committee's inquiry in a speech in Miami.

Hall referred to the hearing as a vehicle for spreading "gloom and doom" and said it may well have caused the recent market price break.

SAYS COMPETITION REAL

In the inquiry itself, president Harlow Curtice of General Motors took sharp issue in testimony prepared for today with suggestions that there is no real competition in the automobile industry.

On the contrary, Curtice declared, the industry "is even more competitive today than at any time in its 50-year history."

Assumption college at Windsor, Ont., started as a Jesuit mission school in 1857.

LONDON (UP) — When heavyweight Fred Powell was defeated on points in an eight-round fight Tuesday night he protested it was supposed to go 10 rounds. Referee Bill Williams agreed. Powell was knocked out in the tenth.

The winner was Eddie Hearn.

Body of Pilot Found in Man. Plane Wreckage

WINNIPEG (CP)—A second body has been found in the wreckage of a civilian plane on the the eastern shore of Lake Winnipeg, RCMP here reported Thursday night.

A radio phone message from RCMP constable P. McLaughlin of Berens River, who flew to the crash scene Thursday with two department of transport officials, said the body of the pilot, Gary Quirk, 33, of Winnipeg, was found in the plane.

Quirk, owner and manager of Quirk Airways and one of the best-known pilots in Manitoba, left Winnipeg Monday with John George Rieck on a 150-mile flight to Rabbit Point.

Rieck's body was found in the airplane Wednesday.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A record $60,000 was set as bail here Thursday for Joseph Marcoux, awaiting preliminary hearing on a charge of attempted murder.

Marcoux, a former hockey player arrested in Toronto last month, is held in connection with the attempted gangland-style slaying of William Senenick in 1,000-acre Stanley Park last November 3. Semenick now is awaiting Supreme Court trial on a drug trafficking charge.

Matsu Strike Reported Near

TAIPEI (UP)—An official Nationalist news agency reported today the Communists had brought up one marine and two army divisions for assaults on Matsu and Quency and said the invasion of Matsu was "apparently very near."

OTTAWA (BUP) — The United States is carefully weighing all reports of a build-up of Communist forces in North Korea, U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today.

But he declined to answer a reporter's question at a not-for-direct-quotation press conference on whether U.S. forces in South Korea would be increased.

He also refused to be pinned down on the conditions under which the U.S. determination to defend Formosa and The Pescadores would be extended to Matsu and Quemoy Islands. The final decision in case of an attack on those islands rests with President Eisenhower, he said.

West Germany's upper house, the Bundesrat, is voting Friday.

The accords have been approved by the lower house in both countries.

GERMANY RATIFIES PARIS ARMS PACTS

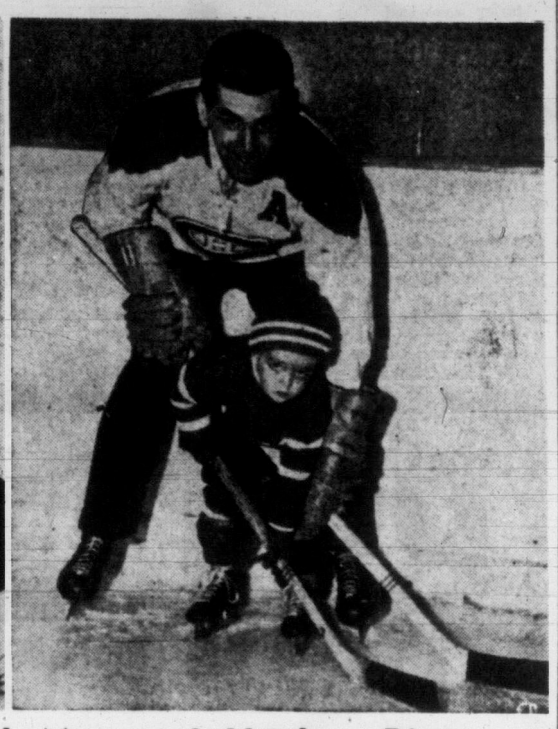
BONN, Germany (UP)—The Bonn government completed ratification today of the Paris accords to rearm 500,000 Germans as a major force in the Western defense system against Communist aggression.

The West German upper house sets its final stamp of approvel on the set of treaties which restores German sovereignty, ends the Allied occupation and permits Germany to arm as a part of the Western European Union and NATO.

"What happened today means the wiping out of Yalta," Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said after the successful conclusion of his long and hard fight for ratification.

Of the major powers only France has not completed ratification. The French upper house votes next week.

27 Plead Guilty, 29 Held After Riot Over Richard



Their Actions Sparked Montreal Hockey Riot

All Canada was talking today about Thursday night's momentuous hockey riot at the Montreal Forum. Leading figures around which the controversy has raged are pictured above. At the left, president Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League, who brought down a storm around his head for suspending Canadiens' star, Maurice (Rocket) Richard, for the rest of the season, discusses the Boston stick-swinging incident with Frank Undvari, referee of the game in question. At the right is the "Rocket" pictured with his young son. Richard drew the stiff penalty as a result of going berserk in a game last Sunday night in Boston. After getting into a stick-swinging battle with Hal Laycoe of the Bruins Richard punched linesman Cliff Thompson. President Campbell is known to many Victoria hockey fans through his having been stationed here with the Army during the Second World War. Recognized as one of the best referees in the business, Campbell officiated at several games at the Willows arena, later destroyed by fire.

Bandaged Brawlers Freed on $100 Bail

MONTREAL (BUP)—Twenty-seven persons, some of them heavily bandaged, pleaded guilty today to joining in what a judge said was a premeditated riot staged to protest the suspension of National Hockey League star Maurice Richard.

SEE LOCAL REACTION PAGE 15

Judge Emmett J. McManamy freed them all on $100 bail and said he would pass sentence March 25.

"I must consider not only the actual offense, but the punishment must also be such as to deter any repetition of such incidents as a warning to others," he said.

Two other adults were to be charged separately with assaulting a police officer, and 27 juveniles were scheduled to appear at a closed session of juvenile court.

Police estimated this afternoon that $10,000 worth of goods, ranging from cameras to radios and wrist watches, were taken by looters in a night-long follow-up to the riot. None of the original group booked was charged with looting or theft, however.

McManamy said he postponed the hearings to next week partly because he wanted to figure out adequate punishment and partly because police were not yet sure of the total damage. A total of 150 windows were smashed in the Forum building alone.

Police Lieutenant John McTaggart said 74 persons, including 27 juveniles under 16 years old, had been booked as a result of the riot. He estimated that 25 others were treated at hospitals for injuries from flying fists, bottles and soup cans tossed in protest against Richard's suspension for the remainder of the NHL season by league president Clarence S. Campbell.

But some apparently were allowed to cool off before the court opened and were sent away with warnings to behave. Others convinced officers they were picked up by mistake as police fought a crowd of 4,000 demonstrators, and were freed after calling friends or relatives to vouch for them.

June 16 Vote For Britain?

Papers Speculating Again On Churchill's Retirement

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—Britain's biggest political teasers—the date of the next general election and Prime Minister Churchill's retirement—were linked today in a fresh burst of speculation.

As reflected in British newspapers, corridor gossip now emphasizes these possibilities:

1. Although the evidence is still slender—and has proved unreliable many times in the past—there is a feeling that Churchill may hand over the premiership to Foreign Secretary Eden within the next weeks.

2. The possibility of a spring election can almost certainly be ruled out, but there is still a chance of a summer vote. If not, October would be the most likely date.

RESIGN BEFORE BUDGET

The Yorkshire Post, a Conservative newspaper, reports there is a "growing feeling" among Tory members the 80-year-old prime minister will resign before the April 19 budget—"that, indeed, he may choose to do so within the next two weeks."

The News Chronicle, a Liberal newspaper, lists five pointers to the fact that the prime minister may be "seriously thinking" of retiring. These include the fact that Lady Eden has recently been shown around the prime minister's official residence at 10 Downing Street, where she would ultimately become hostess, and the scheduling of a dinner at Downing Street, April 4, at which the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will be chief guests.

"Could it be a farewell occasion?" the News Chronicle asks.

THINK JUNE 16 LIKELY

On the question of a general election, which can be held on any date of the government's choice up to October, 1956, the pro-Labor Daily Mirror and the Daily Telegraph, Conservative, both discuss the possibility of a June 16 vote.

Labor Retains Seat in Wales

WREXHAM, Wales (Reuters)—The Labor Party retained its parliamentary seat in a by-election here Thursday. Despite the current rift between the right and left wings of the party, it slightly increased its percentage of the vote.

The Labor candidate, schoolteacher Idwal Jones, won with 23,402 of the 40,450 votes cast—58 per cent and a majority of 10,925.

His predecessor, Robert Richards, whose death caused the present election, won in 1951 with a majority of 14,635 in a total poll of 55,000.

The Conservative candidate in today's result, Guthrie Jones, polled 12,457. A third candidate, Welsh Nationalist Elystan Morgan, received 4,572 votes.

Some Conservative supporters had looked to the current rift between left-wing leader Aneurin Bevan and the orthodox party leadership under Clement Attlee to show up in a reduced Labor poll. Bevan was expelled from the parliamentary party organization Wednesday and now sits in Parliament as an independent.

Tory Kohaly Turns Down Socred Bid

REGINA (CP)—Robert Kohaly says he has turned down an invitation to lead the Saskatchewan Social Credit party in the next provincial election, expected in 1956.

Mr. Kohaly, Progressive Conservative member of the legislature, said in an interview Thursday that he is "staying with the Tories," and he has given that decision to Social Crediters who offered him the leadership.

Mr. Kohaly, a 33-year-old lawyer, said some weeks ago he received the invitation from sources he declined to identify and added that he was "seriously considering" the offer.

He said he "never will disclose" who made the Social Credit offer to him. Rumor had it that it had come from high officials of the party in British Columbia and Alberta.

Auxiliaries May Prevent 'Brownout'

B.C. Power Commission announced at noon today that it is negotiating for "sizeable" auxiliary generators to help relieve the serious water shortage at John Hart Development, and impending Vancouver Island "brownout."

Already arrangements have been made for a generator to be located near Ladysmith. No announcement has been made regarding locations of others. (See earlier story, page 14.)

Wants Fluoridation

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ald. Donald McTaggart, who said Wednesday evidence in favor of fluoridation is "overwhelming," will press for action by city officials.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING For Young People

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

CHAPTER IV

YOU MAKE YOUR OWN HAPPINESS

Who decides whether you shall be happy or unhappy? The answer—you do!

A television celebrity had as a guest on his program an aged man. And he was a very rare old man indeed. His remarks were entirely unpremeditated and of course absolutely unrehearsed. They simply bubbled up out of a personality that was radiant and happy. And whenever he said anything, it was so naive, so apt, that the audience roared with laughter. They loved him. The celebrity was impressed, and enjoyed it with the others.

Finally he asked the old man why he was so happy. "You must have a wonderful secret of happiness," he suggested.

"No," replied the old man, "I haven't any great secret. It's just as plain as the nose on your face. When I get up in the morning," he explained, "I have two choices—either to be happy or to be unhappy, and what do you think I do? I just chose to be happy, and that's all there is to it."

That may seem an oversimplification, but I recall that Abraham Lincoln said that people were just about as happy as they made up their minds to be. You can be unhappy if you want to be. It is the easiest thing in the world to accomplish. Just choose unhappiness. Go around telling yourself that things aren't going well, that nothing is satisfactory, and you can be quite sure of being unhappy. But say to yourself, "Things are going nicely. Life is good. I choose happiness," and you can be quite certain of having your choice.

MORE EXPERT

Children are more expert in happiness than adults. And the subtlety of Jesus Christ is remarkable, for He tells us that the way to live in this world is to have the childlike heart and mind. So don't become supersophisticated.

My little daughter Elizabeth, aged 11, has the answer to happiness. One day I asked her, "Are you happy, honey?"

"Sure I'm happy," she replied.

"Are you always happy?" I asked.

"Sure," she answered, "I'm always happy."

"What makes you happy?" I asker her.

"Why, I don't know," she said. "I'm just happy."

"There must be something that makes you happy," I urged.

HOCKEY RIOT SIDELIGHTS

Job Offered 'Raw Deal' Rocket

(BUP and CP Dispatches)

MONTREAL—A firm that sells wrapping paper and twine to butchers offered Maurice Richard a job today.

The Canadian Butchers' Supply Corp., said in newspaper advertisement headed "an urgent message to Maurice Richard" it felt he got a raw deal when he was suspended for the rest of the season by NHL president Clarence Campbell.

"Being unable to contact you personally at this time, we are, via this ad, offering you a bona fide position with our firm. If interested, please contact," the firm said.

Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau today blamed National Hockey League president Clarence S. Campbell for the riot at the forum.

Drapdeau said Campbell's presence at the game "could be interpreted as a real challenge."

But the mayor said: "Provocations can never be considered as excuses for excessive acts, and I thus request the people of Montreal to be calm and respect the law."

Police officials said today they were more concerned with protecting the public than preventing property damage during Thursday night's mob demonstrations in downtown Montreal.

Police attempted to hold the crowd in check at first, but eventually it became a howling mob.

Some 200 policemen were on the riot scene through most of the night. They concentrated on arresting ringleaders rather than attempting to break up the throngs.

City councillor Adeodat Crompt said today he will seek a warrant for the arrest of NHL president Clarence Campbell. "I want a warrant not only for last night, but also if he ever sets his foot in the Forum again," he said.

Montreal's hockey riot drew banner headlines and scathing comment in Canada's press today.

The Daily Star devoted most of its front page to the story. An editorial entitled "A Disgrace to Canada," said "It is time we took a lesson from the Americans on how a national game should be run."

The Telegram's front page trumpeted, "hockey hurt 'everywhere' . . . Campbell." Comunist Bob Hekseth said the demonstration "has given a fairly decent sport the blackest eye that any sport has ever had."

Ottawa newspapers expressed shock. The Ottawa Citizen, in a lead editorial headed "Hockey on Trial," said "In most other sports a player who assaulted opponents with a stick and struck officials . . . would not be suspended for merely a few weeks but banished from the game for life."

The Ottawa Journal castigated "the malicious, unsporting and hooligan deeds of some of the Montreal fans."

Scotty Melville in Regina Leader-Post called the riot "a disgraceful outburst."

Andy O'Brien wrote in Montreal Star: "Outside the Forum, I mixed among them to see just who comprised this unprecedented mob who, in my opinion, would have killed Campbell if they'd got to him.

"The mob . . . were basically riff-raff types—toughs who normally ramble the shabby areas of the city in the wee hours looking for cheap thrills . . .

NHL CHIEF 'WON'T QUIT'

MONTREAL (CP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said today, "I have no intention at all of resigning."

He made the statement in an interview with The Canadian Press after reports circulated that he planned to resign because of riotous demonstrations set off by his appearance Thursday night at the Montreal Forum.

HIGHLY COMMENDED

Campbell said:

"I have already received this morning three calls from governors of the league who are owners of their clubs commending me very highly for my decision on the Richard case and the manner in which I have conducted myself, including my attendance at the game."

Campbell declined to say whether he will attend Saturday's game at the Forum between Canadiens and New York Rangers. He indicated it will be a matter for Canadiens' management and the police to decide.

NO POLICE IN SIGHT

Campbell gave the interview in his office at NHL headquarters. There were no police in sight anywhere near the building or Campbell's offices.

Campbell was asked his reaction to the outburst in the Forum.

"I wasn't frightened if that's what you mean," replied Campbell.

"I think in the interest of everybody if I had known what was going to happen, the tning then to have done would have been to have the game called off."

"The question of my attendance was a matter for the management of the building and the police.

Crossword Prize Hits New High of $450

A new high for the Times crosswords contest prize—$450 to a bonus winner—was established today when for the sixteenth week no one came through with a correct solution.

There were several sticklers in last week's puzzle, the hardest perhaps being "tough" not "rough" for the definition "After a very ——— voyage, a sailor may be glad to see port." The composer points out that a real sailor takes a rough voyage more or less in stride, but after a very tough voyage he would be glad to see port.

Contest judges announced that because of a minor misprint in the definition for No. 18 down this was disregarded in checking the entries. Most people got the proper answer which was "ragged."

Full explanation of the correct solution, along with the new puzzle worth $450 is on page 26.

Fans Fury of Hate Sweeps Into Streets

MONTREAL (C)—Thousands of revenge-crazed hockey fans went on a seven-hour rampage of destruction and looting Thursday night in the worst demonstration Montreal has seen since the anti-conscription riots during the Second World War.

The fans, fired up to a fury of hate against National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell, smashed windows, looted jewelry stores and beat up innocent bystanders as their rage flared on long after a game between the Canadiens and Detroit was called off at the end of the first period with the visitors leading 4-1 and awarded to the Red Wings.

It started off as a noisy protest against Campbell's action in suspending their idol—Maurice "Rocket" Richard — and grew until street-car riders and persons walking along busy St. Catherine Street cowered in fear of the frenzied demonstrators.

Shops Looted; Stands Smashed, Burned

Passengers on street-cars, trapped in an impossible traffic jam near the Forum, lay on the floor as chunks of ice and bottles came smashing through windows, scattering glass and panic.

Police arrested more than 100 persons. Many had their pockets jammed with looted jewelry.

The mob went completely out of control, despite the efforts of hundreds of police and firemen.

Corner newsstands were toppled and set afire. More than 50 stores had their windows smashed. Cars were overturned. Many people were injured, but none severely.

Inside the Forum, there was a scene of unbelievable hysteria as a fan tossed a tear-gas bomb into a passageway near the entrance, sending spectators choking and coughing through the exits. Forum officials said only the calm of fans in the upper part of the rink, who retained their seats while those near the ice battled their way out, prevented a major disaster.

Campbell, the object of the fury, was punched in the face by one fan and buried under an avalanche of rubbers, peanuts, programs, eggs, tomatoes and pennies. He said afterwards, however, that he was unhurt.

The demonstration started innocently enough. Hundreds of fans jammed the lobby of the Forum two hours before game time but they seemed in a jovial mood. But when the game got under way and the effort of those without tickets to crash the gates were repulsed by police they became more surly.

They assembled in a park at Atwater and St. Catherine Street, directly opposite the rink, and started pelting street cars with chunks of ice. Dozens of windows were broken.

'Friend' Slaps Campbell's Face

Campbell's arrival midway through the first period touched off the demonstration inside by many of the 15,000 fans. For six minutes after his arrival he was pelted with programs and peanuts. He took it all smilingly, as if he had expected it.

After a time, the demonstration subsided, but when the period ended with Detroit ahead 4-1 the spectators renewed the barrage. This time, rubbers and bottles were added to the missiles.

Ushers and police tried to keep the fans away from where Campbell sat with three secretaries from NHL headquarters. On spectator, however, pretended to be a friend of the NHL president, and with his hand extended as if to shake Campbell's hand, got by the guard.

He maintained the friendly attitude until he was within striking distance om Campbell and then slapped him across the face with his open hand. As Campbell fell back from the blow, the fan closed his fist and punched him.

Campbell retained his seat as police dragged his attacker off, still trying to kick out at the NHL president. But when the tear-gas bomb was tossed into the psaageway he joined hundreds of other fans in putting his handkerchief over his face and heading for the exit.

Rioters Run Rampant in Downtown Shops

Fire director Armand Pare then ordered the game suspended, "for the protection of the fans." The order meant the contest was automatically forfeited to the Red Wings and moved them into undisputed possession of first place.

The cancellation only seemed to increase the ire of the fans, who milled around outside for four hours after the order, firing anything they could get their hands on at police, cars and streetcars.

When they were finally pushed back from the Forum they marched up St. Catherine Street, Montreal's main business artery, smashing windows and looting for some 20 blocks.

As they marched they chanted "a bas Campbell" (down with Campbell, "vive Richard" and flaunted a huge likeness of the Rocket hammering a dummy Campbell over the head with a hockey stick.

Police at first concentrated on picking off the obvious troublemakers and holding the rest in check.

But they moved in fast when a group set a news stand on fire. Within minutes a space had been cleared and five fire-trucks arrived.

A few fights broke out but police herded troublemakers into vans and hustled them off to join the rest of the 100 or more who finally found their way to jail.

The mob was breaking up. Gradually they were pushed east. Then the remnant broke, with some running ahead to vent their anger on whatever came in their path.

Army Said Probing Huge B.C. Thefts

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Province says an Army investigation—"the biggest since the Currie Report scandal of 1952"—has begun into the plundering of Engineers' Stores in Vancouver and Chilliwack, B.C., 65 miles east of here.

The story says systematic thievery of Army equipment was disclosed when a former sergeant was interviewed by Army investigators checking certain shortages in Army stores.

He admitted complicity in thefts far wider than the investigators imagined, The Province says, and the RCMP was called in. He was alleged to have named officers, some of them still in service, as being implicated.

There was no immediate estimate of the amount stolen, the story says.

Gas Delay Disappoints St. Laurent

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today he is "disappointed" that a start will not be made on a West-to-East natural gas pipeline this year. But he told the Commons he could add little to the announcement made Thursday by Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. that the project can't be started for at least a year. The company said the government wanted a controlling interest in the pipeline if it agreed to guarantee the company's bonds. The company could not accept this.

Drug Peddler Jailed 10 Years

VANCOUVER (CP)—Graham Lilburn, 25, convicted of possessing heroin for the purpose of trafficking, today was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Arthur Lord.

Two other men accused with him after police said they saw Lilburn pick up a drug cache in South Vancouver, were acquitted.

Butter Support Plan Extended

OTTAWA (CP)—The same support price for butter will be continued until April 30, 1956, Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced today.

231 Albertans Charged in Lottery

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton police announced today 231 Albertans will be summonsed on charges of selling lottery tickets.

The summonses followed a raid on an Edmonton hotel room 10 days ago which resulted in the arrest of James Munro of Calgary and confiscation of tickets.

Munro, a former Calgary police officer, is on bail awaiting preliminary hearing.

Ottawa Outlays at Peacetime High

OTTAWA (CP)—Supplementary estimates of $53,994,585 for the current fiscal year were tabled in the Commons today.

They bring spending for the year that ends March 31 to a peace-time high of $4,567,794,000.

Major single item is $28,758,000 to cover an expected deficit of the Canadian National Railways.

MONTREAL FIRE

MONTREAL (BUP)—A four-story building housing the Grandmere Knitting Mills warehouse on Montreal's waterfront was destroyed by fire early today.

France Resents U.S. Disclosure

MOSCOW (UP)—Russia today handed a note to France. It was believed the communication was linked to the earlier Soviet threat to scrap the Franco-Soviet friendship pact if France ratifies the German rearmament pacts.

PARIS (UP)—The French National Assembly upset its scheduled timetable today in a revolt spurred partly by revelations in the Yalta papers.

The revolt was led by Jacques Vendroux, a brother-in-law of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, and a bitter opponent of German rearmament.

Vendroux forced the Lower House to throw out a timetable of business set up by its steering committee for next week.

He demanded a debate on the future of the Saar before the Senate can begin its debate next week on ratification of the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany. When the steering committee failed to include this issue, he appealed to the chamber. The deputies backed him, 299 to 268.

Among the arguments Vendroux used was one that the government of Premier Edgar Faure must speak out on the Yalta revelations as well as on the Saar.

Vendroux tried unsuccessfully last week to get the foreign affairs committee to agree to an immediate debate designed to get clarification of the British and American stands on the Saar.

In today's successful action, he apparently threw in the Yalta disclosures to take advantage of the bitterness they have engendered among the French because of uncomplimentary references to France.

Observers thought the apparent aim of the Saar debate was to influence the Senate's decision on ratification. Enemies of German rearmament could turn such a debate into another full-fledged assault on the Paris accords.

June 16 Vote For Britain?

LONDON (CP)—Britain's biggest political teasers—the date of the next general election and Prime Minister Churchill's retirement—were linked today in a fresh burst of speculation.

As reflected in British newspapers, corridor gossip now emphasizes these possibilities:

1. Although the evidence is still slender—and has proved unreliable many times in the past—there is a feeling that Churchill may hand over the premiership to Foreign Secretary Eden within the next weeks.

2. The possibility of a spring election can almost certainly be ruled out, but there is still a chance of a summer vote. If not, October would be the most likely date.

On the question of a general election, which can be held on any date of the government's choice up to October, 1956, the pro-Labor Daily Mirror and the Daily Telegraph, Conservative, both discuss the possibility of a June 16 vote.

Montreal's 'Pet Hate'

Most unpopular man in Montreal today is president Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League, right, for his suspension of Canadiens' "Rocket" Richard following stick-swinging incident and attack on official Sunday night in Boston. Above Campbell discusses incident with Frank Undvari, referee of the Boston engagement. Thursday night Campbell was central figure in the worst riot in the history of Canadian sport at Montreal Forum. Campbell announced today he has no intention of resigning and already has been commended by three club owners for his decision on the Richard case.

'Raw Deal' Rocket Offered New Job

(BUP and CP Dispatches)

MONTREAL—A firm that sells wrapping paper and twine to butchers offered Maurice Richard a job today.

The Canadian Butchers' Supply Corp., said in newspaper advertisement headed "an urgent message to Maurice Richard" it felt he got a raw deal when he was suspended for the rest of the season by NHL president Clarence Campbell.

"Being unable to contact you personally at this time, we are, via this ad, offering you a bona fide position with our firm. If interested, please contact," the firm said.

Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau today blamed National Hockey League president Clarence S. Campbell for the riot at the forum.

Drapdeau said Campbell's presence at the game "could be interpreted as a real challenge."

But the mayor said: "Provocations can never be considered as excuses for excessive acts, and I thus request the people of Montreal to be calm and respect the law."

Police officials said today they were more concerned with protecting the public than preventing property damage during Thursday night's mob demonstrations in downtown Montreal.

Police attempted to hold the crowd in check at first, but eventually it became a howling mob.

Some 200 policemen were on the riot scene through most of the night. They concentrated on arresting ringleaders rather than attempting to break up the throngs.

City councillor Adeodat Crompt said today he will seek a warrant for the arrest of NHL president Clarence Campbell. "I want a warrant not only for last night, but also if he ever sets his foot in the Forum again," he said.

Montreal's hockey riot drew banner headlines and scathing comment in Canada's press today.

The Daily Star devoted most of its front page to the story. An editorial entitled "A Disgrace to Canada," said "It is time we took a lesson from the Americans on how a national game should be run."

The Telegram's front page trumpeted, "hockey hurt 'everywhere' . . . Campbell." Columnist Bob Hesketh said the demonstration "has given a fairly decent sport the blackest eye that any sport has ever had."

29 Appear in Court After Hockey Riot

MONTREAL (BUP)—Maurice (Rocket) Richard will broadcast a radio and television message, imploring his fans to avoid any further demonstrations, it was announced today. Times for the broadcasts were not yet known.

MONTREAL (BUP)—Twenty-seven persons, some of them heavily bandaged, pleaded guilty today to joining in what a judge said was a premeditated riot staged to protest the suspension of National Hockey League star Maurice Richard.

SEE LOCAL REACTION PAGE 15

Judge Emmett J. McManamy freed them all on $100 bail and said he would pass sentence March 25.

"I must consider not only the actual offense, but the punishment must also be such as to deter any repetition of such incidents as a warning to others," he said.

Two other adults were to be charged separately with assaulting a police officer, and 27 juveniles were scheduled to appear at a closed session of juvenile court.

Police estimated this afternoon that $10,000 worth of goods, ranging from cameras to radios and wrist watches, were taken by looters in a night-long follow-up to the riot. None of the original group booked was charged with looting or theft, however.

McManamy said he postponed the hearings to next week partly because he wanted to figure out adequate punishment and partly because police were not yet sure of the total damage. A total of 150 windows were smashed in the Forum building alone.

Police Lieutenant John McTaggart said 74 persons, including 27 juveniles under 16 years old, had been booked as a result of the riot. He estimated that 25 others were treated at hospitals for injuries from flying fists, bottles and soup cans tossed in protest against Richard's suspension for the remainder of the NHL season by league president Clarence S. Campbell.

But some apparently were allowed to cool off before the court opened and were sent away with warnings to behave. Others convinced officers they were picked up by mistake as police fought a crowd of 4,000 demonstrators, and were freed after calling friends or relatives to vouch for them.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING For Young People

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

CHAPTER IV

YOU MAKE YOUR OWN HAPPINESS

Who decides whether you shall be happy or unhappy? The answer—you do!

A television celebrity had as a guest on his program an aged man. And he was a very rare old man indeed. His remarks were entirely unpremeditated and of course absolutely unrehearsed. They simply bubbled up out of a personality that was radiant and happy. And whenever he said anything, it was so naive, so apt, that the audience roared with laughter. They loved him. The celebrity was impressed, and enjoyed it with the others.

Finally he asked the old man why he was so happy. "You must have a wonderful secret of happiness," he suggested.

"No," replied the old man, "I haven't any great secret. It's just as plain as the nose on your face. When I get up in the morning," he explained, "I have two choices—either to be happy or to be unhappy, and what do you think I do? I just chose to be happy, and that's all there is to it."

That may seem an oversimplification, but I recall that Abraham Lincoln said that people were just about as happy as they made up their minds to be. You can be unhappy if you want to be. It is the easiest thing in the world to accomplish. Just choose unhappiness. Go around telling yourself that things aren't going well, that nothing is satisfactory, and you can be quite sure of being unhappy. But say to yourself, "Things are going nicely. Life is good. I choose happiness," and you can be quite certain of having your choice.

Children are more expert in happiness than adults. And the subtlety of Jesus Christ is remarkable, for He tells us that the way to live in this world is to have the childlike heart and mind. So don't become sophisticated.

My little daughter Elizabeth, aged 11, has the answer to happiness. One day I asked her, "Are you happy, honey?"

"Sure I'm happy," she replied.

"Are you always happy?" I asked.

"Sure," she answered. "I'm always happy."

"What makes you happy?" I asker her.

"Why, I don't know," she said. "I'm just happy."

"There must be something that makes you happy," I urged.
